SHALINA HEALTHCARE · ACO

ACO Brand Bible

The complete strategic, verbal and visual identity system for the ACO household cleaning brand across Angola and secondary African markets.

Prepared for client review · Confidential brand reference document

Contents

Brand Foundation

1.1 Brand Overview

1.2 Brand History

1.3 Vision

1.4 Mission

1.5 Brand Purpose

1.6 Brand Promise

1.7 Brand Essence

1.8 Brand DNA

1.9 Brand Beliefs

1.10 Brand Values

1.11 Brand Principles

1.12 Emotional Territory

1.13 Functional Territory

1.14 Brand Story

1.15 Brand Archetype

Closing Statement

Market & Consumer

2.1 Category Definition

2.2 Market Opportunity

2.3 Competitive Landscape

2.4 Consumer Personas

2.5 Jobs To Be Done

2.6 Consumer Tensions

2.7 Consumer Motivations

2.8 Purchase Decision Drivers

2.9 Purchase Barriers

2.10 Consumer Journey

2.11 Strategic Positioning Canvas

2.12 Consumer Psychology & Behavioural

Insights

The Golden Consumer Insight

Brand Strategy & Positioning

3.1 Brand Positioning Statement

3.2 Unique Value Proposition (UVP)

3.3 Value Proposition Canvas

3.4 Positioning Matrix

3.5 Brand Differentiators

3.6 Reasons to Believe (RTBs)

3.7 Brand Ladder

3.8 Brand Associations

3.9 Brand Equity Drivers

3.10 Distinctive Brand Assets

3.11 Strategic Guardrails

3.12 Strategic North Star

3.13 Strategic Decision Filter

3.14 Competitive Positioning Summary

3.15 Strategic Summary

Brand Messaging System

4.1 Messaging Philosophy

4.2 Brand Narrative

4.3 The Big Brand Idea

One Solution. Simpler Living.

4.4 Message Hierarchy

4.5 Messaging Pillars

4.6 Message House

4.7 Reasons to Believe

4.8 Key Brand Messages

4.9 Messaging Matrix

4.10 Content Messaging Framework

4.11 Language We Own

4.12 Signature Brand Phrases

4.13 Storytelling Framework

4.14 Campaign Messaging Rules

4.15 Brand Voice

4.16 Tone of Voice

4.17 Messaging Quality Checklist

4.18 Messaging Summary

Visual Identity System

Purpose

5.1 Visual Philosophy

5.2 Visual Brand Principles

5.3 Brand Personality Through Design

5.4 Colour Philosophy

5.5 Photography Style

5.6 Composition Rules

5.7 Product Placement Guidelines

5.8 Graphic Language

5.9 Iconography

5.10 Packaging Usage

5.11 The ACO Brand World

5.12 Mood Board Keywords

Verbal Identity

Purpose

6.1 Brand Voice

6.2 Voice Characteristics

6.3 Tone of Voice

6.4 Brand Personality Matrix

6.5 Writing Principles

6.6 Messaging Hierarchy

6.7 Vocabulary to Own

6.8 Words and Phrases to Avoid

6.9 Copy Formula

6.10 Calls to Action

6.11 Writing Checklist

6.12 Signature Messaging

Storytelling System

Purpose

7.1 Storytelling Philosophy

7.2 The ACO Story Formula

7.3 The Emotional Journey

7.4 Story Territories

7.5 The 3-Second Rule

7.6 The Product Integration Rules

7.7 Story Principles

7.8 Story Quality Test

7.9 The ACO Narrative Wheel

7.10 Campaign Story Architecture

7.11 The ACO Story DNA

7.12 Story Formats

7.13 The Golden Rule

7.14 Storytelling Checklist

Creative Direction & Story Matrix

Purpose

8.1 Creative Philosophy

8.2 The Creative Formula

8.3 The Story Matrix

8.4 Emotional Mapping

8.5 Creative Territories

8.6 Campaign Architecture

8.7 Creative Filter

8.8 Creative Guardrails

8.9 The Creative Compass

8.10 Campaign Blueprint Library

8.11 Creative Asset Framework

8.12 AI Creative Guidelines

8.13 Creative Success Checklist

Content Strategy

Purpose

9.1 Content Mission

9.2 Content Objectives

9.3 The ACO Content Pyramid

9.4 Content Pillars

9.5 Content Formats

9.6 Hero – Hub – Help Model

9.7 Seasonal Content Strategy

9.8 The 70–20–10 Rule

9.9 Platform Behaviour

9.10 Community Engagement

9.11 Content Quality Checklist

9.12 The Consumer Journey

9.13 AI Content Creation Guidelines

9.14 Annual Content Planning Framework

9.15 Content Success Metrics

Video Playbook Social Media Playbook

Purpose

10.1 Social Media Mission

10.2 Platform Roles

10.3 Content Mix

10.4 The ACO Social Formula

10.5 Caption Framework

10.6 Video Framework

10.7 Static Post Framework

10.8 Carousel Framework

10.9 Community Management

10.10 Response Standards

10.11 Hashtag Strategy

10.12 Posting Rhythm

10.13 Influencer Guidelines

10.14 User-Generated Content

10.15 Crisis Communication

10.16 Social Media Quality Checklist

10.17 Social Media Success Metrics

10.18 Social Media Operating Principles

Video & Film Production Playbook

Purpose

11.1 The ACO Film Philosophy

11.2 The ACO Video DNA

11.3 The First Three Seconds Rule

11.4 Video Structure by Length

11.5 Cinematic Direction

11.6 Camera Language

11.7 Shot Hierarchy

11.8 Lighting Style

11.9 Colour Grading

11.10 Product Demonstration Standards

11.11 Editing Style

11.12 Music Direction

11.13 Sound Design

11.14 Typography in Video

11.15 Packshot Standards

11.16 Video Categories

11.17 Production Principles

11.18 AI Video Production Guidelines

11.19 Video Quality Control Checklist

11.20 The ACO Signature Viewing

Experience

Static Design Playbook

12.1 Purpose

12.2 Static Design Principles

12.3 Visual Formula

12.4 The ACO Layout System

12.5 Typography Hierarchy

12.6 Image Composition

12.7 White Space Rules

12.8 Colour Usage

12.9 Icon Style

12.10 Graphic Elements

12.11 Packshot Standards

12.12 Static Content Templates

12.13 Design QA Checklist

Brand Photography Playbook

13.1 Photography Philosophy

13.2 The ACO Photography Formula

13.3 Photography Pillars

13.4 Photography Style

13.5 Lighting Standards

13.6 Colour Grading

13.7 Composition Rules

13.8 Camera Angles

13.9 Cropping Standards

13.10 Focus

13.11 Casting Guidelines

13.12 Wardrobe

13.13 Props

13.14 Home Environment Standards

13.15 Product Photography Standards

13.16 Detail Photography

13.17 Seasonal Photography

13.18 Photography Do's

13.19 Photography Don'ts

13.20 Photography Quality Checklist

Motion Design & Animation Playbook

14.1 Motion Philosophy

14.2 Motion Personality

14.3 Motion Principles

14.4 Motion Timing

14.5 Typography Animation

14.6 Product Animation

14.7 Icon Animation

14.8 Transition System

14.9 Animated Static Framework

14.10 Reel Motion System

14.11 Logo Animation

14.12 Motion Graphics

14.13 Sound & Motion Relationship

14.14 Motion Across Platforms

14.15 Motion Accessibility

14.16 Motion QA Checklist

Campaign System & Creative Framework

15.1 Campaign Philosophy

15.2 Campaign Architecture

15.3 Annual Campaign Cycle

15.4 Campaign Story Framework

15.5 Campaign Objectives

15.6 Campaign Content Mix

15.7 Creative Brief Framework

15.8 Campaign Measurement

15.9 Creative Guardrails

15.10 Cross-Platform Integration

15.11 Campaign QA Checklist

Product Communication Framework

16.1 Product Communication Philosophy

16.2 The ACO Product Communication

Pyramid

16.3 The Benefit Hierarchy

16.4 Features vs Benefits

16.5 Ingredient Communication

16.6 Product Claims Framework

16.7 Product Storytelling Formula

16.8 Product Education Framework

16.9 Product Portfolio Communication

16.10 Product Comparison Rules

16.11 Pricing Communication

16.12 Product Launch Framework

16.13 Product Communication Do's

16.14 Product Communication Don'ts

16.15 Product Communication QA

Checklist

Consumer Journey & Experience

17.1 Experience Philosophy

17.2 Consumer Journey

17.3 Consumer Touchpoints

17.4 Retail Experience

17.5 Digital Experience

17.6 Customer Service Standards

17.7 Community Engagement

17.8 Loyalty Principles

17.9 Handling Consumer Concerns

17.10 Brand Experience Standards

17.11 Experience Measurement

17.12 Consumer Experience QA Checklist

Brand Governance & Quality Control

18.1 Governance Philosophy

18.2 Brand Ownership

18.3 Creative Approval Process

18.4 Asset Management

18.5 Brand Audits

18.6 Quality Assurance Standards

18.7 Brand Consistency Score

18.8 Agency Onboarding

18.9 Change Management

18.10 Governance QA Checklist

Ai & Future Content Guidelines

19.1 AI Philosophy

19.2 AI Principles

19.3 AI Copywriting Standards

19.4 AI Image Generation Standards

19.5 AI Video Standards

19.6 AI Prompt Framework

19.7 Automation Opportunities

19.8 Emerging Platforms

19.9 AI Governance Checklist

Brand Implementation Toolkit & Final Manifesto

20.1 Purpose

20.2 Creative Brief Template

20.3 Campaign Planning Checklist

20.4 Content Production Checklist

20.5 Design Checklist

20.6 Social Publishing Checklist

20.7 Performance Review Framework

20.8 Training & Onboarding

20.9 Annual Brand Review

20.10 The ACO Brand Manifesto

01

Brand Foundation

1.1 Brand Overview

Brand Name

ACO

Parent Company

Shalina Healthcare

Primary Market

Angola

Secondary Markets

> Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) (to be validated by local team)

Industry

Home Care / Household Cleaning

Product Category

Multipurpose Household Gel

Core Product

ACO Multipurpose Household Gel

Product Format

Concentrated Multipurpose Household Gel

Tagline

Multipurpose Household Gel

Website

https://shalina.com/en-za/brands/aco-all-purpose-cleaner/

Facebook

ACO Limpeza Handle: @ACOLimpeza

Instagram

@aco_limpeza

Launch Year

To be confirmed.

Distribution

Modern Trade General Trade Traditional Trade Retail Digital Commerce

Business Objective

To establish ACO as the leading multipurpose household gel by simplifying home cleaning through one trusted, versatile solution.

1.2 Brand History

Cleaning has traditionally required consumers to purchase multiple products for different rooms, surfaces and cleaning tasks. This often results in higher household costs, cluttered storage spaces and more complicated cleaning routines.

ACO was created to simplify this experience.

Rather than asking consumers to buy separate cleaners for kitchens, bathrooms, floors and household surfaces, ACO offers one concentrated multipurpose household gel capable of handling multiple cleaning needs.

The brand was developed around a simple belief:

One smart solution should be enough.

As consumer lifestyles became increasingly busy and household budgets more carefully managed, ACO positioned itself as a practical, reliable and affordable cleaning companion that saves time, money, effort and storage space while delivering effective cleaning performance.

Today, ACO continues to build its reputation as the household cleaning solution that simplifies everyday life through one trusted product.

1.3 Vision

To become the most trusted multipurpose household cleaning brand across Africa by making everyday cleaning simpler, smarter and more accessible for every family.

1.4 Mission

To enrich the lives of African families by providing innovative household cleaning solutions that simplify daily cleaning routines, allowing people to spend less time cleaning and more time enjoying the moments that matter most.

1.5 Brand Purpose

To simplify everyday home care so families can spend less time cleaning and more time living. ACO exists to remove unnecessary complexity from household cleaning by providing one trusted solution that makes caring for the home easier, more efficient and more affordable.

1.6 Brand Promise

One powerful household gel that makes everyday cleaning simpler, smarter and more affordable. Every interaction with ACO should reinforce this promise.

1.7 Brand Essence

Simplified Living

Everything ACO creates should support this single idea. The product does not simply clean homes. It simplifies life.

1.8 Brand DNA

Purpose

Simplify everyday living.

Mind

Innovative Practical Efficient Reliable

Heart

Cares deeply about families and everyday household wellbeing.

Personality

Helpful Confident Resourceful Friendly Dependable

Spirit

Making life easier through smarter cleaning solutions.

1.9 Brand Beliefs

We believe every family deserves an easier way to care for their home. We believe great cleaning should never require multiple products. We believe saving time is just as valuable as saving money.

We believe simplicity is one of the greatest forms of innovation. We believe everyday habits create healthier homes and happier families. We believe caring for a home is one of the simplest ways people show love to those around them.

1.10 Brand Values

Simplicity

We remove unnecessary complexity from everyday cleaning. Behaviour

- Make cleaning easier.
- Communicate clearly.
- Eliminate unnecessary steps.

Care

We exist to help families create healthier, happier homes. Behaviour

- Put people first.
- Show empathy.
- Celebrate everyday household heroes.

Reliability

Consumers should always trust ACO to perform consistently. Behaviour

- Deliver on every promise.
- Demonstrate product performance.
- Never exaggerate claims.

Practical Innovation

Innovation should solve real problems.

Behaviour

- Focus on useful improvements.
- Simplify routines.
- Create meaningful value.

Value

Great cleaning should remain accessible.

Behaviour

- Help consumers save money.
- Help consumers save time.
- Help consumers maximise every purchase.

1.11 Brand Principles

ACO will always:

- Simplify before adding complexity.
- Demonstrate before claiming.
- Solve real household problems.
- Focus on people before products.
- Celebrate everyday family life.
- Build trust through consistency.
- Make cleaning feel achievable.
- Respect consumers' intelligence.
- Deliver value in every interaction.
- Reinforce that one product can replace many.

ACO will never:

- Shame consumers.
- Use fear to sell.
- Overpromise product performance.
- Complicate the cleaning experience.

1.12 Emotional Territory

ACO wants consumers to feel:

- Confident
- Proud
- Organised
- Relaxed
- In control
- Supported
- Reassured
- Empowered
- Accomplished

Ultimately, ACO helps consumers feel that caring for their home is easier than they imagined.

1.13 Functional Territory

ACO helps consumers:

- Clean multiple household surfaces.
- Remove stubborn stains.
- Disinfect everyday surfaces.
- Leave a lasting fresh fragrance.
- Replace multiple household cleaning products.
- Save money.
- Save storage space.
- Save time.
- Reduce cleaning effort.

1.14 Brand Story

Cleaning has become more complicated than it needs to be. Homes are filled with different products for different rooms, different surfaces and different problems. Every purchase costs more, every bottle takes up valuable space and every cleaning routine demands more time. ACO was created with a simple belief: One smart solution should be enough. As a Multipurpose Household Gel, ACO helps families clean more with less—less clutter, less effort, less waste and fewer compromises. Whether tackling stubborn stains, disinfecting surfaces or leaving the home smelling fresh, ACO simplifies everyday cleaning so people can focus on what truly matters. Because a cleaner home should never come at the cost of your time.

1.15 Brand Archetype

Primary Archetype

The Caregiver The Caregiver protects, nurtures and supports. ACO helps families care for the people they love by making household cleaning simpler, more effective and more dependable. The brand provides reassurance, comfort and confidence while helping consumers create healthier, cleaner living environments.

Secondary Archetype

The Everyman The Everyman is approachable, practical and relatable. ACO is designed for everyday people living everyday lives. It avoids unnecessary complexity, expensive positioning and unrealistic expectations. Instead, it delivers honest value through products that simply work.

Closing Statement

ACO exists to simplify everyday home care through one trusted Multipurpose Household Gel that helps families save time, reduce effort and enjoy cleaner homes with confidence. Every decision the brand makes should reinforce this purpose, ensuring that consumers experience not just a cleaner home, but a simpler way of living.

02

Market & Consumer

2.1 Category Definition

Primary Category

Multipurpose Household Gel

ACO competes within the broader household cleaning category while owning the more specific and strategically differentiated category of Multipurpose Household Gel .

Rather than positioning itself as another floor cleaner or disinfectant, ACO is designed to replace multiple household cleaning products with one trusted solution.

Its role is not simply to clean—it is to simplify household cleaning.

Category Role

ACO exists to reduce the complexity of home care by providing one concentrated cleaning solution capable of performing multiple household cleaning tasks.

The brand competes on simplicity, versatility, convenience and value rather than individual cleaning tasks.

Categories ACO Competes Against

Although ACO's primary category is Multipurpose Household Gel, consumers often compare it against products designed for specific cleaning tasks.

These include:

- Floor Cleaners
- Bathroom Cleaners
- Kitchen Cleaners
- Multipurpose Surface Cleaners
- Degreasers
- Toilet Cleaners
- Pine Gels
- Household Disinfectants
- Cleaning Sprays
- General Household Cleaners

From the consumer's perspective, every cleaning product in their shopping basket is a competitor.

2.2 Market Opportunity

Category Trends

Several consumer trends support the long-term growth of multipurpose household cleaning products.

Consumers increasingly prefer products that perform multiple functions while reducing household costs and simplifying daily routines.

Modern households value convenience, efficiency and practical innovation more than ever before. Consumers are also becoming more selective with their purchases, expecting every product to deliver greater value and versatility.

At the same time, trust is increasingly built through product demonstrations, authentic experiences and visible proof rather than advertising claims alone.

Market Drivers

The category is influenced by several key drivers:

- Increasing urbanisation.
- Growing number of working households.
- Rising cost of living.
- Greater focus on household hygiene.
- Limited household storage space.
- Consumer preference for multifunctional products.
- Demand for products that simplify everyday life.

Market Challenges

Several factors may limit category growth or adoption. Consumers often have deeply established cleaning habits and may believe that specialised products perform better than multipurpose solutions. Price-sensitive shoppers may compare products based only on purchase price rather than long-term value. Lower-priced local alternatives may also compete aggressively, making education and product demonstration essential.

2.3 Competitive Landscape

Strategic Competitor Overview

Competitor	Strength	Weakness	Opportunity for ACO
OMO	Strong household trust	Primarily laundry focused	Own the multipurpose cleaning space.

Competitor	Strength	Weakness	Opportunity for ACO
Vim	Strong cleaning reputation	Task-specific positioning	Position ACO as one solution for multiple cleaning jobs.
Harpic	Toilet cleaning specialist	Limited household versatility	Demonstrate whole-home cleaning.
Domestos	Strong disinfecting credentials	Mainly bathroom focused	Promote multi-surface convenience.
Mr Muscle	Kitchen cleaning expertise	Multiple specialised products	Simplify cleaning through one product.
Local Pine Gels	Affordable pricing	Lower perceived quality	Compete on trust, performance and value.
Homemade Cleaning Solutions	Very low cost	Inconsistent results	Demonstrate proven performance and convenience.

Local market competitors should be validated by the Angola marketing team.

> Local market competitors should be validated by the Angola marketing team.

2.4 Consumer Personas

Persona One

Maria – The Household CEO

Age: 35 Occupation: Working Mother Maria manages both her career and her household. She is responsible for grocery shopping, household cleaning products and maintaining a clean, welcoming home.

Goals

- Keep the home clean.
- Save money.
- Save time.
- Make products last longer.
- Care for her family.

Frustrations

- Too many cleaning products.
- Cleaning consumes too much time.
- Household expenses continue to increase.
- Limited storage space.

Purchase Drivers

- Value for money.
- Trusted recommendations.
- Proven product performance.
- Convenience.

Persona Two

Sofia – The Young Independent Age: 24 Recently moved into her own apartment. She has limited storage, a limited budget and prefers products that simplify everyday life. Goals

- Buy fewer products.
- Keep her apartment clean.
- Avoid unnecessary spending.
- Learn smarter cleaning habits.

Frustrations

- Doesn't know which cleaning products she really needs.
- Small living space.
- Too many choices.

Purchase Drivers

- Simplicity.
- Convenience.
- Affordable quality.
- Multipurpose functionality.

Persona Three

Ana – The Family Protector Age: 40 Ana believes that a clean home reflects love, responsibility and good parenting. Cleaning is not simply a task—it is part of caring for her family. Goals

- Protect her family.
- Maintain a healthy home.
- Feel proud of her living space.

Emotional Driver "A clean home is one of the ways I show love to the people who matter most."

2.5 Jobs To Be Done

Consumers hire ACO to perform multiple jobs.

Functional Job

Help me clean my home effectively using one product.

Emotional Job

Help me feel like I am taking good care of my family.

Social Job

Help me feel confident when family and visitors enter my home.

2.6 Consumer Tensions

Consumers experience several everyday frustrations that ACO is uniquely positioned to solve. These include:

- "Why do I need so many cleaning products?"
- "Cleaning takes too much time."
- "I'm spending too much money on household cleaners."
- "I don't have enough storage space."
- "I want something simple that actually works."
- "I don't want to keep switching between different products."

Every ACO campaign should solve one of these tensions.

2.7 Consumer Motivations

Consumers do not buy household cleaning products because they enjoy cleaning.

They buy them because they want:

- Peace of mind.
- A healthy home.
- Pride in their living space.
- Confidence when visitors arrive.
- More quality time with family.
- Less stress.
- Greater control over household responsibilities.

Cleaning is not the goal.

A better life is.

2.8 Purchase Decision Drivers

The most likely factors influencing purchase decisions are:

- 1. Cleaning performance.

- 2. Value for money.
- 3. Multipurpose functionality.
- 4. Ease of use.
- 5. Trusted recommendation.
- 6. Pleasant fragrance.
- 7. Product availability.
- 8. Brand reputation.

These priorities should be validated with ongoing market research.

2.9 Purchase Barriers

Potential barriers include:

- "One product can't possibly clean everything."
- "I'm used to buying specialised cleaners."
- "I've never used a household gel before."
- "This sounds too good to be true."
- "Will it actually save me money?" Every communication should work to remove these objections through education, demonstration and proof.

2.10 Consumer Journey

Stage Consumer Thinking ACO's Role Awareness "What is ACO?" Introduce the brand and explain the category. Interest "Can one product really do all of Demonstrate versatility and this?" effectiveness. Consideration "Is it worth trying?" Reinforce value, simplicity and performance. Purchase "I'll give it a chance." Make trial easy and rewarding. Experience "It actually works." Build trust through positive product experience. Loyalty "I don't need multiple cleaners Encourage repeat purchase. anymore." Advocacy "You should try ACO." Inspire recommendations and word-of-mouth.

2.11 Strategic Positioning Canvas

Target Audience

Working women, household decision-makers and families seeking a smarter, more efficient way to care for their homes.

Frame of Reference

Household cleaning products.

Point of Difference

One concentrated Multipurpose Household Gel that replaces multiple cleaning products without compromising on cleaning performance.

Reasons to Believe

- Multi-surface cleaning.
- Tough stain removal.
- Disinfecting capability.
- Long-lasting freshness.
- Better value through one product.

Emotional Benefit

More time for what matters, with the confidence of a cleaner, fresher home.

2.12 Consumer Psychology & Behavioural

Insights

The Consumer Mindset

Consumers do not wake up wanting another cleaning product. They want a home that feels clean, organised and welcoming without spending unnecessary time, money or effort. Cleaning products are simply the tools that help them achieve this. The true purchase motivation is a simpler life.

How Consumers Think

Consumer Thought What It Really Means Brand Opportunity "Cleaning never ends." Household cleaning feels like an Position ACO as the smarter, endless responsibility. faster way to clean. "Why do I need so Product overload creates Reinforce that one product can many bottles?" frustration. replace many. "I have too much to Time has become increasingly Focus on time-saving benefits. do." valuable. "I need to stretch my Every purchase must deliver Demonstrate cost savings budget." maximum value. through versatility. "If it works, I'll keep Performance creates loyalty. Lead with demonstrations and buying it." visible proof. "I don't want Simplicity reduces stress. Make ACO effortless to complicated routines." understand and use.

How Consumers Feel

Before ACO

- Overwhelmed.
- Frustrated.
- Pressure.

- Busy.
- Stressed.
- Guilty when cleaning falls behind.

After ACO

- Organised.
- Relaxed.
- Confidence.
- Proud.
- In control.
- Reassured.

Rational Purchase Drivers

Consumers evaluate products based on:

- Cleaning performance.
- Product versatility.
- Price.
- Value.
- Ease of use.
- Availability.
- Brand trust.

Emotional Purchase Drivers

Consumers also seek emotional rewards.

These include:

- Family care.
- Pride.
- Peace of mind.
- Confidence.
- Comfort.
- Feeling organised.
- More time for loved ones.

Behavioural Triggers

Consumers become most receptive to ACO during key household moments, including:

- Weekly deep cleaning.
- Grocery shopping.
- Preparing for visitors.

- Moving into a new home.
- Seasonal cleaning.
- Cleaning after cooking.
- Children's everyday messes.
- Bathroom and kitchen maintenance. These moments should form the basis of recurring content themes.

Consumer Decision Journey

The consumer journey typically follows this progression: Problem Recognition "I have too many cleaning products." ↓ Need Evaluation "There has to be an easier way." ↓ Discovery "What is a Multipurpose Household Gel?" ↓ Proof Seeking "Show me that it actually works." ↓ Trial

"I'll test it." ↓ Validation "It replaced several products." ↓ Habit Formation "I don't need multiple cleaners anymore." ↓ Advocacy "I should recommend this to others."

Psychological Barriers

Consumers may hesitate because they believe:

- One product cannot do everything.
- Specialised cleaners perform better.
- Multipurpose products are less effective.
- Changing routines involves risk. ACO should consistently remove these barriers through proof rather than promises.

Emotional Transformation

Before ACO After ACO Multiple cleaning products One trusted solution Cluttered cupboards Organised storage Long cleaning routines Faster routines

Higher household costs Better value Daily stress Simplicity Doubt Confidence Cleaning controls the day More time for life

The Golden Consumer Insight

People don't buy ACO because they love cleaning. They buy ACO because they love what easier cleaning gives them: more time, less stress, greater confidence and a home they are proud to care for.

03

Brand Strategy & Positioning

3.1 Brand Positioning Statement

Master Positioning Statement

ACO is the Multipurpose Household Gel that empowers African families to simplify everyday cleaning through one powerful, versatile solution that replaces multiple household cleaners, saving time, money, effort and space without compromising on performance. This positioning establishes ACO as more than a cleaning product—it is a smarter way to care for the home.

Positioning Formula

For household decision-makers and families who want an easier way to keep their homes clean, ACO is the Multipurpose Household Gel that replaces multiple household cleaning products with one trusted solution, because it delivers effective cleaning performance while saving time, money, effort and storage space.

3.2 Unique Value Proposition (UVP)

Core UVP

One trusted household gel. Endless cleaning possibilities. Supporting Statement ACO combines the power of multiple household cleaners into one concentrated gel that cleans, disinfects, freshens and simplifies everyday life.

Value Proposition Summary

Consumers no longer need different products for different cleaning tasks.

ACO provides one reliable solution that delivers versatility, convenience and value without compromising cleaning performance.

3.3 Value Proposition Canvas

Customer Jobs

Consumers want to:

- Keep their homes clean.
- Save time.
- Save money.
- Protect their families.
- Reduce clutter.
- Simplify household routines.

- Buy products that deliver greater value.

Customer Pains

Consumers experience:

- Too many cleaning products.
- Too much time spent cleaning.
- Rising household costs.
- Limited storage space.
- Confusion about which product to use.
- Frustration with complicated cleaning routines.

Customer Gains

Consumers want:

- One trusted cleaning solution.
- Faster cleaning.
- Better value.
- Cleaner homes.
- Less stress.
- Greater confidence.
- More free time.

Pain Relievers

ACO helps by:

- Replacing multiple cleaning products.
- Cleaning multiple surfaces.
- Simplifying household routines.
- Reducing clutter.
- Saving shopping costs.
- Saving cleaning time.

Gain Creators

ACO delivers:

- Multipurpose cleaning.
- Concentrated formula.
- Powerful stain removal.
- Fresh fragrance.
- Household versatility.
- Better overall value.

3.4 Positioning Matrix

Strategic Attribute ACO Position

Multipurpose Capability Very High

Simplicity Very High Cleaning Performance High Household Value High Ease of Use High Product Complexity Low Cleaning Time Required Low Strategic Interpretation ACO aims to occupy the market position where consumers associate the brand with maximum versatility, simplicity and value while requiring minimal effort to use.

3.5 Brand Differentiators

Functional Differentiators

ACO stands apart through:

- Multipurpose household gel formulation.
- One product replacing multiple cleaners.
- Multi-surface application.
- Concentrated formula.
- Tough stain removal.
- Fresh long-lasting fragrance.
- Practical household convenience.

Emotional Differentiators

ACO helps consumers feel:

- Confident.
- Organised.
- In control.
- Proud of their homes.
- Less stressed.
- More capable.

Strategic Differentiator

Most cleaning brands promise better cleaning.

ACO promises a simpler way of living through smarter cleaning.

This moves the brand beyond product performance into an emotional lifestyle benefit that is more difficult for competitors to replicate.

3.6 Reasons to Believe (RTBs)

Every promise should be supported by proof.

Functional Reasons to Believe

- Concentrated gel formula.
- Multi-surface cleaning capability.
- Visible cleaning performance.
- Tough stain removal.
- Fresh fragrance.
- Product versatility.
- Cost-saving through product consolidation.

Emotional Reasons to Believe

Consumers build confidence through:

- Product demonstrations.
- Everyday household scenarios.
- Real customer experiences.
- Repeat purchase.
- Positive recommendations.
- Consistent product performance.

3.7 Brand Ladder

The Brand Ladder explains how product features ultimately create emotional value. Level Description Product Multipurpose Household Gel Features Cleans, disinfects, freshens, removes stains Functional Benefits Saves time, saves money, reduces clutter, simplifies cleaning Emotional Benefits Confidence, pride, peace of mind, control Life Benefit More time for what truly matters Brand Purpose Simplify everyday living Every campaign should communicate at least one level of this ladder while supporting the levels above it.

3.8 Brand Associations

When consumers think about ACO, the brand should consistently own the following associations.

Functional Associations

- Multipurpose.
- Powerful cleaning.

- Household gel.
- Trusted.
- Practical.
- Reliable.
- Value for money.

Emotional Associations

- Family.
- Simplicity.
- Confidence.
- Care.
- Organisation.
- Freshness.
- Peace of mind.

Mental Availability

ACO should become mentally linked with:

- One Product.
- One Solution.
- Smarter Cleaning.
- Simpler Living.
- Household Confidence.

3.9 Brand Equity Drivers

Brand equity is created through consistent delivery of value over time.

Functional Equity

Consumers trust ACO because it consistently delivers:

- Reliable cleaning.
- Multipurpose performance.
- Ease of use.
- Household versatility.

Emotional Equity

Consumers continue purchasing ACO because it makes them feel:

- More confident.
- More organised.

- Less stressed.
- Proud of their homes.
- Better able to care for their families.

Memory Structures

Long-term brand growth should reinforce these mental shortcuts:

- Multipurpose Household Gel.
- One Product.
- Simpler Cleaning.
- Smarter Cleaning.
- Family Care.
- Trusted Household Solution.

3.10 Distinctive Brand Assets

Distinctive Brand Assets help consumers recognise ACO instantly.

Existing Assets

- ACO Logo.
- Green colour palette.
- Multipurpose Household Gel descriptor.
- Product bottle shape.
- Pine freshness cues.
- Concentrated gel appearance.

Recommended Distinctive Assets

Develop and consistently apply:

- One Bottle visual.
- Product swirl or gel pour signature.
- One bottle replacing many bottles visual.
- Household transformation scenes.
- Consistent product demonstration style.
- Signature end frame.
- Consistent closing mnemonic.

Distinctive assets should appear consistently across packaging, advertising, digital platforms, retail displays and promotional materials.

3.11 Strategic Guardrails

These are the non-negotiable principles that guide all marketing and communication.

Always

- Lead with a real household problem.
- Demonstrate the product in action.
- Show visible proof.
- Keep communication simple.
- Focus on helping families.
- Reinforce product versatility.
- Celebrate everyday life.
- Educate before selling.
- Deliver genuine value.

Never

- Shame consumers.
- Exaggerate product claims.
- Complicate the cleaning process.
- Use fear as the primary sales message.
- Present ACO as "just another cleaner."
- Create unrealistic household expectations.
- Sacrifice clarity for creativity.

3.12 Strategic North Star

Every great brand has one guiding principle that shapes every decision.

The ACO North Star

Every interaction should leave people believing that caring for their home can be simpler, smarter and more rewarding with one trusted solution. This principle should influence product development, customer service, marketing, packaging and innovation.

3.13 Strategic Decision Filter

Before approving any campaign, product, communication or activation, every team should ask the following questions:

- 1. Does this reinforce ACO as the Multipurpose Household Gel?

- 2. Does it simplify the consumer's life?
- 3. Does it solve a genuine household problem?
- 4. Does it demonstrate real product performance?
- 5. Does it save consumers time, money, effort or storage space?
- 6. Is the product naturally integrated into the story rather than forced into it?

- 7. Will consumers remember one clear idea after experiencing this communication? If the answer to any question is No , the work should be refined before release.

3.14 Competitive Positioning Summary

ACO is not trying to be the strongest disinfectant, the cheapest cleaner or the most specialised household product.

Instead, ACO owns a distinctive position in the market by delivering:

- Simplicity over complexity.
- Versatility over specialisation.
- Value over excess.
- Everyday practicality over technical jargon.
- Real-life usefulness over exaggerated claims.

This positioning allows ACO to compete not only within the household cleaning category but also against the complexity of traditional cleaning routines.

3.15 Strategic Summary

ACO's long-term success depends on consistently reinforcing one simple strategic truth:

ACO doesn't just clean homes—it simplifies everyday home care.

Every product innovation, campaign, retail activation and customer interaction should strengthen this idea. By focusing on simplicity, versatility, value and trust, ACO can build strong mental availability, meaningful emotional connections and sustainable brand equity across African markets.

04

Brand Messaging System

4.1 Messaging Philosophy

Core Messaging Principle

Every message ACO communicates should answer one simple question: "How does ACO make everyday cleaning simpler?" This question should guide every advertisement, social media post, retail promotion, packaging message and customer interaction. Consumers do not need more information. They need clear, consistent and memorable messages that reinforce the same brand idea over time. Every communication should strengthen the association between ACO and simpler home care .

Messaging Objective

The purpose of ACO's messaging is not simply to explain product features. Its role is to:

- Build trust.
- Educate consumers.
- Demonstrate product performance.
- Simplify decision making.
- Reinforce long-term brand memory. Every message should leave consumers believing:

"Life is easier with ACO."

4.2 Brand Narrative

The ACO Story

Cleaning has become more complicated than it needs to be. Many households rely on multiple products for different rooms, different surfaces and different cleaning tasks. More bottles mean more spending. More clutter. More confusion. More time spent cleaning. ACO believes there is a smarter way. One trusted Multipurpose Household Gel can replace multiple household cleaners while delivering the cleaning performance families expect. By simplifying everyday cleaning, ACO helps people spend less time managing household chores and more time enjoying the moments that matter most. Cleaning should support life—not take it over.

4.3 The Big Brand Idea

Every iconic brand owns one simple idea. Nike owns Just Do It. Apple owns Think Different. Volvo owns Safety. For ACO, the central brand idea is:

One Solution. Simpler Living.

This idea should influence every campaign, every piece of content and every communication.

Consumers may not remember every advertisement. They should always remember this feeling.

4.4 Message Hierarchy

A consistent hierarchy ensures that every communication reinforces the same strategic message.

Core Brand Message

ACO is the Multipurpose Household Gel that simplifies everyday cleaning. ↓

Primary Functional Benefit

One product replaces multiple household cleaners. ↓

Supporting Functional Benefits

- Cleans multiple surfaces.
- Removes stubborn stains.
- Disinfects.
- Leaves lasting freshness.
- Saves time.
- Saves money.
- Saves storage space.
- Simplifies cleaning routines. ↓

Emotional Benefits

Consumers feel:

- Confident.
- Organised.
- Proud.
- Relaxed.
- In control.
- Less stressed. ↓

Lifestyle Benefit

A simpler home creates a simpler life.

4.5 Messaging Pillars

Every campaign should support one or more of these five pillars.

Pillar One

Simplicity Core Message Cleaning should never be complicated. Supporting Messages

- One product.
- One solution.
- Less effort.
- Less confusion.
- Easier routines.

Pillar Two

Versatility

Core Message One household gel can handle multiple cleaning tasks. Supporting Messages

- Kitchen.
- Bathroom.
- Floors.
- Household surfaces.
- Everyday cleaning.

Pillar Three

Smart Value Core Message Spend smarter—not more. Supporting Messages

- Replace multiple products.
- Reduce household costs.
- Make every purchase count.
- Greater value from one bottle.

Pillar Four

Family Care Core Message A clean home is another way of caring for the people you love. Supporting Messages

- Healthy habits.
- Everyday care.
- Fresh homes.
- Family wellbeing.
- Trusted protection.

Pillar Five

Confidence Core Message Feel prepared for everyday life. Supporting Messages

- Welcome unexpected visitors.
- Handle everyday messes.
- Feel proud of your home.
- Trust your cleaning routine.

4.6 Message House

Brand Promise (Roof)

One trusted solution for a simpler clean.

Pillar One

Multipurpose Performance

- Cleans multiple surfaces.
- Powerful cleaning action.
- Concentrated household gel.
- Everyday versatility.

Pillar Two

Smart Value

- Replaces multiple products.
- Saves money.
- Saves storage.
- Reduces waste.

Pillar Three

Simpler Living

- Less effort.
- Less clutter.
- More confidence.
- More time.

Foundation

Helping families care for their homes through one trusted Multipurpose Household Gel.

4.7 Reasons to Believe

Every claim should be supported by proof. Brand Promise Supporting Proof One solution One product performs multiple cleaning tasks. Saves money One bottle replaces several cleaning products. Powerful cleaning Visible stain removal demonstrations. Saves time Simplified household cleaning routine. Trusted performance Consistent product experience backed by Shalina Healthcare.

Everyday practicality Real household scenarios and demonstrations.

4.8 Key Brand Messages

These messages should appear consistently across campaigns and communication.

Product Message

One Multipurpose Household Gel.

Functional Message

One product replaces multiple household cleaners.

Emotional Message

Spend less time cleaning. Spend more time living.

Lifestyle Message

Simpler cleaning. Simpler living.

Value Message

Do more with one bottle.

Confidence Message

Clean smarter. Live easier.

4.9 Messaging Matrix

Consumer Need Brand Message Supporting Proof Save time Clean faster with one trusted solution. Demonstrate multi-surface cleaning. Save money Replace multiple products with one Show value comparisons. bottle. Reduce clutter One bottle replaces many. Cupboard transformation visuals. Care for family A cleaner home starts with smarter Family-focused storytelling. cleaning. Trust Proven cleaning power where it matters Before-and-after performance most. demonstrations. Simplicity Cleaning doesn't need to be Everyday household routines. complicated.

4.10 Content Messaging Framework

Every piece of communication should answer five questions.

- 1. What everyday household problem are we solving?
- 2. How does ACO simplify that problem?
- 3. What proof are we showing?
- 4. What emotional benefit does this create?
- 5. What action should the consumer take next?

This framework ensures the product becomes part of the story rather than interrupting it.

4.11 Language We Own

Certain words should become strongly associated with ACO through consistent repetition.

Preferred Language

- Simple
- Smarter
- Multipurpose
- Household
- One Solution
- Trusted
- Practical
- Reliable
- Everyday
- Family
- Fresh
- Powerful
- Efficient
- Value
- Care
- Confidence
- Clean
- Easy

Words to Avoid

Avoid language that creates unrealistic expectations or weakens trust.

Examples include:

- Miracle
- Magic
- Perfect
- Cheapest
- Revolutionary
- Guaranteed
- Chemical-heavy technical language
- Fear-based messaging
- Unsupported scientific claims

4.12 Signature Brand Phrases

The following phrases should be used repeatedly across campaigns to strengthen memory structures.

- One Solution. Simpler Living.
- One Bottle. Many Possibilities.
- One Product. Multiple Solutions.
- Smarter Cleaning Starts Here.
- Cleaning Made Simple.
- Less Clutter. More Clean.
- Every Home Deserves Simplicity.
- One Household Gel. Endless Possibilities.
- Simplify Every Clean.
- One Trusted Solution for Every Home.

4.13 Storytelling Framework

Every ACO story should follow the same emotional journey.

Stage One – Recognition

The audience immediately recognises themselves in the situation.

"This happens in my home."

Stage Two – Tension

An everyday household challenge appears. The conflict should be authentic and relatable rather than exaggerated.

Stage Three – Discovery

ACO enters naturally as the smarter solution. The product should never feel forced into the story.

Stage Four – Demonstration

Show. Don't tell. Consumers trust visible demonstrations more than advertising claims.

Stage Five – Transformation

Life becomes easier. Not because the house is perfect. Because the consumer has less to worry about.

Stage Six – Reinforcement

End every story by reinforcing one memorable brand idea. One Solution. Simpler Living.

4.14 Campaign Messaging Rules

Every campaign should reinforce at least one of the following long-term memory structures:

- Multipurpose Household Gel.
- One Product.
- One Solution.
- Smarter Cleaning.
- Simpler Living.
- Trusted Household Care.
- Saves Time.
- Saves Money.
- Everyday Simplicity.

Campaigns may change.

These memory structures should remain consistent over time.

4.15 Brand Voice

ACO speaks like a trusted household expert—knowledgeable, approachable and practical.

Personality Traits

- Helpful
- Honest
- Reassuring
- Confident
- Friendly
- Practical
- Positive
- Supportive

- Clear

The brand should never sound:

- Arrogant
- Technical
- Complicated
- Fear-driven
- Aggressive
- Condescending
- Overly promotional

4.16 Tone of Voice

The tone should adapt slightly depending on the context while remaining recognisably ACO.

Situation Tone

Product Education Clear, informative and reassuring.

Social Media Friendly, relatable and conversational.

Advertising Confident, inspiring and benefit-led.

Customer Service Helpful, empathetic and solution-focused.

Retail Promotions Clear, practical and value-driven.

Community Warm, encouraging and authentic. Engagement

Regardless of the channel, every message should feel human, supportive and easy to understand.

4.17 Messaging Quality Checklist

Before approving any communication, ask:

- 1. Does this solve a real household problem?
- 2. Is the message immediately clear?
- 3. Does it reinforce ACO's positioning?
- 4. Is the product naturally integrated?
- 5. Is there visible proof of performance?
- 6. Does it communicate a meaningful emotional benefit?
- 7. Is it consistent with the brand voice?
- 8. Does it strengthen at least one long-term memory structure?
- 9. Would the audience remember one key idea after seeing it?
- 10. Does it make everyday cleaning feel simpler?

If the answer to any question is No , the communication should be refined before publication.

4.18 Messaging Summary

ACO's messaging should consistently reinforce one simple belief: Cleaning shouldn't be complicated. Life shouldn't revolve around cleaning. With one trusted Multipurpose Household Gel, ACO helps families simplify home care, save time, reduce effort and enjoy cleaner homes with greater confidence. This message should remain consistent across every touchpoint—from packaging and retail displays to social media, television, digital campaigns and customer service interactions.

05

Visual Identity System

Purpose

The ACO Visual Identity System establishes the visual principles that ensure every touchpoint—from packaging and social media to retail displays, advertising, and digital content—is instantly recognisable as ACO. A strong visual identity is more than a logo or a colour palette. It creates a consistent brand experience that communicates trust, simplicity and confidence before a single word is read. Every visual should reinforce one promise: One Solution. Simpler Living.

5.1 Visual Philosophy

The ACO World

ACO exists in a world where cleaning feels simple—not exhausting. Our visuals should never glorify cleaning itself. Instead, they celebrate the freedom that comes after the cleaning is done. Every image should answer one question: "How does ACO make life feel easier?" We do not sell household gel. We sell lighter mornings. More family time. Less stress. More confidence. Cleaner homes with less effort. Visual Objective

Every creative should communicate at least one of these emotions:

- Relief
- Confidence
- Pride
- Simplicity
- Comfort
- Peace of mind
- Joy from a clean home If those emotions are absent, the creative is not truly on-brand.

5.2 Visual Brand Principles

These principles guide every designer, photographer, motion designer and AI image generator.

Principle 1 — Simplicity Wins

Everything should feel effortless. Avoid unnecessary decorative elements. One clear message. One visual hero. One obvious takeaway. If a viewer needs to "figure out" the visual, it has failed.

Principle 2 — Life Before Product

People connect with people—not bottles. The product supports the story. It never replaces it. The emotional moment should always be stronger than the product shot.

Principle 3 — Demonstrate, Don't Claim

ACO never says it works. It shows it. Examples:

- Dirty floor becoming spotless.
- One bucket cleaning multiple rooms.
- One bottle replacing several products.
- Before-and-after transformations.
- Family enjoying time saved after cleaning. Proof always beats promises.

Principle 4 — Everyday Authenticity

Homes should feel lived in. Real kitchens. Real bathrooms. Real family moments. Never overly luxurious. Never perfect showroom interiors. The audience should recognise their own lives.

Principle 5 — Bright Optimism

ACO visuals should always leave viewers feeling: "I can do this." "Cleaning doesn't have to be difficult."

The overall mood should feel hopeful, energetic and achievable.

5.3 Brand Personality Through Design

If ACO walked into a room, it would appear:

- Calm
- Approachable
- Organised
- Smart
- Friendly
- Helpful
- Dependable
- Efficient

It would never appear:

- Aggressive
- Complicated
- Clinical
- Premium-for-the-sake-of-premium
- Cold
- Loud
- Flashy
- Over-designed

5.4 Colour Philosophy

Colour is one of ACO's most recognisable brand assets. The ACO colour system has been designed to communicate cleanliness, versatility and confidence while allowing individual fragrances to have their own distinct identity.

The colour palette consists of two levels:

- Master Brand Colours – Colours that represent ACO across all communications.
- Variant Colours – Colours that distinguish individual fragrances while remaining recognisably ACO.

Master Brand Palette

These colours should appear consistently across advertising, digital content, point-of-sale material and brand communications, regardless of the product variant being featured.

Colour	Brand Meaning	Primary Use
ACO Red	Confidence, visibility and brand recognition. The red logo is the strongest identifier of the ACO brand and should always remain unchanged.	Logo only. Never recolour.
ACO White	Hygiene, clarity, freshness and simplicity. Creates space and enhances readability.	Backgrounds, typography, packaging highlights and clean layouts.
ACO Fresh Green	Clean living, freshness, versatility and everyday care. Represents the brand promise of simplified cleaning.	Primary communication colour where appropriate, supporting graphics and brand devices.
ACO Deep Blue	Trust, effectiveness and reliability. Reinforces product performance and cleaning confidence.	Supporting backgrounds, information panels and graphic accents.

Variant Colour System

Each fragrance has a distinctive colour family while maintaining the same ACO visual identity.

Pine Variant

Hero Colour: Fresh Pine Green

Represents:

- Deep cleaning
- Freshness
- Nature
- Everyday household care

The Pine range should feel vibrant, energetic and naturally clean.

Lavender Variant

Hero Colour: Lavender Purple

Represents:

- Calmness
- Comfort
- Relaxation
- Long-lasting freshness

The Lavender range should communicate a softer, more comforting cleaning experience without losing ACO's cleaning credentials.

Colour Hierarchy

Every creative should follow this hierarchy:

- 1. ACO Red Logo – The strongest visual identifier.
- 2. ACO White – Creates clarity and visual breathing space.
- 3. Variant Hero Colour – Identifies the fragrance or product variant.
- 4. Supporting Brand Colours – Reinforce structure, information and balance.

This ensures that the ACO brand remains instantly recognisable while allowing each variant to express its unique benefit.

Colour Principles

The ACO palette should always feel:

- Bright
- Clean
- Fresh
- Modern
- Welcoming
- Practical

Colours should improve communication, never distract from the message.

White space should be used generously to reinforce the brand's promise of simplicity.

Colour Usage Rules

Do

- Use the official ACO Red logo exactly as supplied.
- Use the correct variant colour for each product.
- Maintain strong contrast for readability.
- Keep colours vibrant, clean and consistent across all media.

Don't

- Recolour the ACO logo.
- Mix variant colours within a single product communication unless comparing variants.

- Introduce unapproved accent colours that compete with the brand palette.
- Use dark or muddy backgrounds that reduce the perception of cleanliness.

5.5 Photography Style

Every photograph should feel like a real moment captured naturally.

Lighting

- Bright natural daylight.
- Soft shadows.
- Fresh atmosphere.
- Warm but not overly yellow.

Avoid:

- Dark interiors.
- Dramatic lighting.
- Harsh flash.
- Heavy filters.

People

Prioritise:

- Families.
- Parents.
- Young professionals.
- Caregivers.
- Real expressions.
- Genuine interactions.

Avoid:

- Forced smiles.
- Fashion-model posing.
- Looking directly at the camera unless intentional.
- Artificial stock-photo behaviour.

Homes

The environment should feel:

- Organised.
- Comfortable.
- Functional.

- Modern but attainable.
- Authentic to Angolan family life.

The audience should feel:

"That looks like my home."

5.6 Composition Rules

Every creative should follow these design principles:

- One clear focal point.
- Strong visual hierarchy.
- Plenty of white space.
- Product clearly visible.
- Clean backgrounds.
- Minimal distractions.
- Eye naturally travels from problem → product → outcome.

5.7 Product Placement Guidelines

The product should always appear as part of the solution—not as a decorative object.

Preferred placements include:

- Beside a cleaning bucket.
- Next to a sink.
- On a kitchen counter after cleaning.
- In a laundry area.
- In a bathroom during use.
- Held naturally in the user's hand.

Avoid:

- Floating products.
- Oversized packshots.
- Unrealistic reflections.
- Impossible perspectives.
- Product placed where it would never realistically be used.

5.8 Graphic Language

Supporting graphic elements should reinforce simplicity and function.

Recommended elements include:

- Soft cleaning waves.
- Water-inspired curves.
- Gentle sparkle accents.
- Circular motion graphics.
- Measurement indicators.
- Simple line icons.
- Rounded information panels.

Graphic elements should clarify—not decorate.

5.9 Iconography

Icons should communicate quickly and universally.

Characteristics:

- Rounded corners.
- Minimal detail.
- Consistent stroke width.
- Easy recognition.
- Functional rather than decorative.

Common icon themes include:

- Kitchen
- Bathroom
- Floor
- Laundry
- Bucket
- Mop
- Water
- Family
- Savings
- Time
- Protection

5.10 Packaging Usage

Packaging is one of ACO's strongest brand assets and should always be treated consistently.

Rules:

- Front label fully visible.
- Correct proportions.
- Never stretch or distort.
- Never recolour.
- Never remove branding.
- Never obscure key product information.
- Always use the latest approved pack artwork.
- Fragrance name in the hero graphic (e.g. "Gel de Pin/Pinho", "Gel de Lavande/Lavanda") must always match the actual SKU/variant name — verify before any pack goes to print.

Pre-Print QA Checklist

Before any pack, label or template variation is approved for print or production, confirm the following:

- Fragrance/variant name on the front label matches the fragrance/variant name in the hero headline text.
- Hero graphic colourway matches the correct Variant Colour System entry (e.g. Pine = Fresh Pine Green, Lavender = Lavender Purple).
- Lid/cap colour, fragrance photography and label colourway all agree with one another.
- No leftover placeholder text or artwork carried over from a different variant's template.

When shown with multiple variants, maintain equal visual prominence unless a campaign specifically focuses on one product.

5.11 The ACO Brand World

Every creative should feel like it belongs to the same universe.

That universe is one where:

- Homes are bright but lived in.
- Families work together.
- Cleaning is simple.
- Time is valued.
- Smart choices are celebrated.
- Everyday routines become easier.
- Care is shown through practical actions.
- The product quietly enables better living.

The emotional takeaway should always be:

"Life feels lighter with ACO."

5.12 Mood Board Keywords

Every ACO visual should reflect these characteristics:

- Bright
- Clean
- Fresh
- Modern
- Organised
- Warm
- Family-Oriented
- Practical
- Authentic
- Everyday
- Trusted
- African
- Joyful
- Confident
- Simple

These keywords should guide photography, videography, graphic design, AI-generated visuals and retail communications to ensure a consistent and recognisable brand identity across every consumer touchpoint.

Step 5 Complete

The Visual Identity System establishes the visual foundation of the ACO brand. It ensures that every advertisement, social media post, retail display, campaign and piece of packaging communicates the same personality, values and promise. Combined with the Brand Strategy and Messaging System, it creates a cohesive visual language that makes ACO instantly recognisable while reinforcing its positioning as the trusted household gel that makes everyday cleaning simpler.

06

Verbal Identity

Purpose

The Verbal Identity defines how ACO communicates across every touchpoint. Whether it's a social media caption, television commercial, radio advert, product packaging, customer service interaction, website, retailer communication or sales presentation, every conversation should sound unmistakably like ACO. Our words should make cleaning feel simpler, more achievable and more rewarding. Every message should reinforce the belief that ACO is a trusted partner that helps families spend less time cleaning and more time living. The ACO voice is consistent regardless of platform or audience. It is clear. It is practical. It is caring. It is confident.

6.1 Brand Voice

The Voice of ACO

ACO speaks like a trusted household companion. It understands the pressures of keeping a home clean and offers practical solutions without judgement or complexity. ACO is knowledgeable without sounding technical. Confident without sounding boastful. Friendly without becoming overly casual. Helpful without becoming instructional. Every conversation should leave consumers feeling:

- Understood
- Reassured
- Empowered
- Confident
- Inspired to simplify their daily routine

Voice Statement ACO simplifies everyday cleaning through clear, practical and trustworthy communication that helps families spend less time cleaning and more time living.

6.2 Voice Characteristics

Every piece of communication should consistently demonstrate these five characteristics.

1. Simple

ACO believes simplicity builds confidence. The brand avoids complicated explanations, unnecessary jargon and technical terminology. Instead of explaining chemistry, ACO explains everyday benefits. Instead of saying: Advanced multipurpose cleaning formulation. Say: One trusted solution for everyday cleaning.

2. Helpful

ACO acts like a neighbour offering useful advice.

The brand provides practical guidance that helps consumers solve everyday cleaning challenges. The objective is to support—not lecture. Readers should always feel helped rather than sold to.

3. Confident

ACO believes in its performance. It doesn't rely on exaggerated promises. Confidence comes from demonstrating real results in real homes. The product proves itself through action.

4. Practical

Every message should answer one question: "How does this make life easier?" Consumers should immediately understand the value. Benefits always come before features.

5. Caring

Cleaning is never presented as a chore. It is presented as an act of caring for the people and spaces we value. ACO celebrates the people behind the clean home.

6.3 Tone of Voice

Although the brand personality remains consistent, the tone adapts according to the situation. Situation Tone Product Education Clear, informative and reassuring Social Media Friendly, conversational and relatable Household Tips Helpful and encouraging Promotions Positive, energetic and benefit-focused Retail Advertising Confident and action-oriented Customer Service Respectful, patient and solution-focused Community Campaigns Warm, inclusive and supportive The tone may change. The personality never does.

6.4 Brand Personality Matrix

We Are

- Clear
- Helpful
- Friendly
- Reliable
- Practical
- Honest
- Positive
- Warm
- Encouraging
- Confident

We Are Not

- Complicated
- Clinical
- Aggressive
- Pushy
- Technical
- Arrogant
- Fear-driven
- Luxury-focused
- Cold
- Exaggerated

6.5 Writing Principles

Every piece of communication should follow these principles.

Speak to Everyday Life

Start with situations consumers immediately recognise.

Real homes.

Real routines.

Real challenges.

Keep Language Natural

Write the way people naturally speak.

If a sentence sounds like advertising instead of conversation, rewrite it.

Focus on Outcomes

Don't describe product features. Describe how life becomes easier. Instead of: Multipurpose Household Gel. Say: One solution that helps you clean more with less effort.

Show Rather Than Tell

Demonstrate benefits using relatable examples and real-life situations. Avoid unsupported claims.

One Message at a Time

Every communication should have one primary message. Clarity creates memorability.

6.6 Messaging Hierarchy

Every communication should naturally follow the same progression.

Recognition Begin with a familiar household situation. "Cleaning the kitchen is only the beginning."

Tension Highlight the everyday frustration. "Now the bathroom and floors still need attention."

Resolution Introduce ACO naturally. "One trusted solution helps simplify it all."

Reward Show the emotional outcome. Less clutter. Less effort. More time. Greater confidence.

Reinforcement Reconnect with the brand promise. One Solution. Simpler Living.

6.7 Vocabulary to Own

The following words should appear consistently across campaigns because they reinforce ACO's positioning. Core Brand Words

- Simple
- Everyday
- Multipurpose
- Trusted
- Family
- Fresh
- Clean
- Practical
- Smart
- Easy
- Reliable
- Care
- Home
- Confidence
- Simpler Living

Benefit Words

- Saves time
- Less effort
- More convenience
- One solution
- Everyday care
- Fresh results
- Smart cleaning
- Household essential

Repeated use of these words strengthens long-term brand recognition.

6.8 Words and Phrases to Avoid

ACO earns trust through authenticity, not exaggeration.

Avoid phrases such as:

- Miracle cleaner
- Revolutionary formula
- Ultimate cleaning power
- Industrial strength
- Chemical technology
- Guaranteed perfection
- Instantly eliminates everything
- Best in the world These expressions weaken credibility and move the brand away from its practical personality.

6.9 Copy Formula

Every communication should naturally follow this framework. Recognise Identify a familiar household situation. ↓ Understand Show empathy for the challenge. ↓ Simplify Introduce ACO naturally as the solution. ↓ Demonstrate Show the product working in a believable way. ↓ Reward Reveal the emotional benefit. ↓ Reinforce Finish with the brand promise or appropriate call to action.

This structure should guide:

- Social media captions
- Television commercials
- Radio adverts
- Website copy
- Packaging copy
- Retail communications
- Sales presentations

6.10 Calls to Action

Calls to action should encourage rather than pressure.

Primary CTAs

- Discover Simpler Cleaning.

- Make Everyday Cleaning Easier.
- Clean Smarter with ACO.
- One Solution for Every Room.
- Try ACO Today.
- Simplify Your Cleaning Routine.
- Bring Simplicity Home.
- Experience Everyday Confidence.

Promotional CTAs

- Available at leading retailers.
- Find your favourite ACO variant today.
- Stock up for everyday cleaning.
- Discover the ACO range.

Avoid overly aggressive calls to action unless required for a retail promotion.

6.11 Writing Checklist

Before approving any communication, ask:

- Does it sound like a helpful person rather than an advertisement?
- Is the language simple and easy to understand?
- Does it focus on benefits before features?
- Does it solve a genuine household problem?
- Does it reinforce ACO's promise of simpler living?
- Could someone recognise this as ACO without seeing the logo?
- Is there one clear takeaway?
- Does it end with a natural call to action?

If the answer to any question is No , refine the communication before publishing.

6.12 Signature Messaging

Every communication should reinforce at least one of these signature messages. Master Brand Message One Solution. Simpler Living.

Core Promise One trusted household gel that makes everyday cleaning simpler, smarter and more affordable.

Emotional Promise Spend less time cleaning and more time living.

Functional Promise One multipurpose solution for everyday household cleaning.

Closing Thought ACO does not simply communicate the benefits of a cleaning product. It communicates the confidence, simplicity and freedom that come from making everyday household care easier. Every word should reinforce the belief that a cleaner home creates more time for life's meaningful moments.

07

Storytelling System

Purpose

The ACO Storytelling System transforms the brand strategy into meaningful, repeatable stories that build emotional connections with consumers. People don't remember advertisements. They remember stories. They remember emotions. They remember seeing themselves in the people on screen. ACO doesn't tell stories about cleaning products. ACO tells stories about how life becomes easier when cleaning is simpler. Every story should reinforce one promise: One Solution. Simpler Living. Every piece of content—whether a 15-second Reel, a 30-second commercial, a static visual or a retail activation—should be built using this storytelling system.

7.1 Storytelling Philosophy

People don't wake up wanting a multipurpose household gel. They wake up wanting an easier day. A cleaner home. More time. Less stress. More moments with their family. The product is never the hero. The person is.

ACO simply helps them achieve a better outcome. Our stories celebrate life—not cleaning.

7.2 The ACO Story Formula

Every story should follow the same emotional journey.

Stage 1 — Recognition

The audience immediately recognises themselves. The first three seconds should answer: "I've been there." Examples:

- Too many cleaning products.
- A busy morning before work.
- Guests arriving unexpectedly.
- Children making a mess.
- Weekend cleaning. Recognition creates attention.

Stage 2 — Tension

Show why the situation feels frustrating. The challenge should feel authentic—not exaggerated. Examples:

- Running between rooms with different products.
- Not enough time.
- Too much clutter.
- Too many bottles.

- Endless cleaning tasks.

The audience should think: "That's exactly my problem."

Stage 3 — Discovery

Introduce ACO naturally. The product should appear because the character needs it—not because the advertisement demands it. The audience should feel: "That makes sense."

Stage 4 — Demonstration

Show ACO solving the problem. Don't tell people it works. Show:

- Kitchen.
- Bathroom.
- Floors.
- Laundry area.
- Multiple surfaces. One product. Multiple solutions. Visible proof builds trust.

Stage 5 — Transformation

The emotional reward is more important than the clean floor.

Show:

- More family time.
- Less stress.
- Pride.
- Confidence.
- Relaxation. ACO transforms routines—not just rooms.

Stage 6 — Reinforcement

End with the brand promise. Examples: One Solution. Simpler Living. Less Cleaning. More Living. The ending should always reconnect people with the brand idea.

7.3 The Emotional Journey

Every ACO story should move audiences through six emotional stages. Recognition ↓ Frustration ↓ Hope ↓ Relief ↓

Confidence ↓ Satisfaction Consumers should remember how the story made them feel—not just what product they saw.

7.4 Story Territories

Every campaign should belong to one of ACO's storytelling territories.

Everyday Wins

Small household victories that simplify life. Examples:

- Cleaning before guests arrive.
- Weekend reset.
- Kitchen after dinner.
- Laundry day.

Time Saved

The reward is not a cleaner floor. The reward is extra time. Examples:

- Playing with children.
- Sharing a meal.
- Relaxing after work.
- Enjoying family moments.

Smart Choices

Celebrate people who make practical decisions.

Examples:

- One product replacing many.
- Saving money.
- Saving storage space.
- Simplifying routines.

Care in Action

Cleaning is shown as an act of care.

Examples:

- Preparing the home for family.
- Looking after children.
- Helping elderly relatives.
- Creating a welcoming environment.

Real Household Moments

Simple moments everyone experiences.

Examples:

- Spilled juice.
- Muddy footprints.
- Busy mornings.
- Weekend cleaning.

- Preparing for celebrations.

7.5 The 3-Second Rule

Every ACO story must answer these questions within the first three seconds.

Who is this person? ↓ What problem are they facing? ↓ Why should I continue watching? If viewers cannot answer these questions immediately, the opening should be rewritten.

7.6 The Product Integration Rules

The product should never interrupt the story. Instead, it should naturally become part of it. Correct: A parent reaches for ACO because they need to clean multiple rooms quickly. Incorrect: The video opens with a spinning bottle and dramatic music. Correct: The product appears during the solution. Incorrect: The product appears before the audience understands the problem. People connect with stories before products.

7.7 Story Principles

Every story should include:

✓ Recognition ✓ Authentic conflict ✓ Natural product integration ✓ Clear demonstration ✓ Emotional reward ✓ Brand reinforcement If one of these elements is missing, the story is incomplete.

7.8 Story Quality Test

Before approving a creative concept, ask:

- Can the audience identify with the situation immediately?
- Is the problem authentic?
- Does the product enter naturally?
- Does the demonstration build confidence?
- Is the emotional reward stronger than the functional benefit?
- Does the ending reinforce the ACO promise?
- Would people remember the story even if they forgot the product? If the answer is "No" to any question, refine the concept.

7.9 The ACO Narrative Wheel

Every campaign should rotate between these recurring narratives.

Busy Morning

Cleaning needs to happen quickly before the day begins.

Unexpected Guests

The home needs to be ready in minutes.

Weekend Reset

Preparing the home for a fresh new week.

Family Moments

Cleaning because people matter.

Smart Household

One solution replacing many.

Everyday Confidence

The satisfaction that comes from a clean, organised home. Using these recurring narratives keeps the brand familiar while allowing endless creative variation.

7.10 Campaign Story Architecture

Individual posts should never exist in isolation. A campaign should feel like one continuous story. Week 1 — Recognition

Introduce the everyday challenge. "This is my problem." ↓ Week 2 — Discovery Reveal a simpler solution. "There is an easier way." ↓ Week 3 — Proof Demonstrate how ACO works. "I can see it." ↓ Week 4 — Lifestyle Celebrate the outcome. "This is how I want to live." This structure moves consumers from awareness to trust over time.

7.11 The ACO Story DNA

Every piece of content should contain these five ingredients.

1. Identify

Can people immediately see themselves in the story?

2. Simplify

Does ACO remove unnecessary complexity?

3. Demonstrate

Can consumers clearly see how ACO solves the problem?

4. Reward

Is the reward bigger than a clean surface? Does it show:

- More time
- More confidence
- Less stress
- Greater comfort
- Family moments

5. Remember

What single idea will stay with the audience after the story ends? The answer should always support: One Solution. Simpler Living.

7.12 Story Formats

The storytelling system should adapt across different formats while maintaining the same narrative structure. Format Story Focus Duration Short Reels One everyday problem, one solution 15–30 seconds

Hero Videos Emotional journey and lifestyle transformation 30–60 seconds Static Posts Capture one powerful moment from the story Single image or carousel Retail Displays Immediate recognition and product benefit Instant impact Influencer Content Authentic daily routines featuring ACO 30–90 seconds

7.13 The Golden Rule

ACO never tells stories about cleaning. ACO tells stories about what cleaning makes possible. A cleaner kitchen is not the destination. Dinner with family is. A spotless floor is not the reward. Peace of mind is. The product is simply the bridge between everyday challenges and a simpler, happier life.

7.14 Storytelling Checklist

Before approving any story, ask:

- Does the opening create recognition within three seconds?
- Is the problem authentic and relatable?
- Does ACO appear naturally as the solution?
- Is the product demonstrated rather than merely mentioned?

- Is the emotional payoff stronger than the cleaning result?
- Does the story align with the ACO brand promise?
- Will people remember the feeling after the story ends?

If every answer is Yes , the story is ready for production.

08

Creative Direction & Story Matrix

Purpose

The ACO Creative Direction transforms brand strategy into consistent, high-performing creative work across every touchpoint. It ensures that every campaign, advertisement, social media post, retail display, video and AI-generated asset looks, feels and behaves like ACO. This section is not about making beautiful advertisements. It is about creating work that people immediately recognise, emotionally connect with and remember. Every creative should answer one question: "How does ACO make everyday life easier?" If the answer isn't immediately obvious, the creative isn't complete.

8.1 Creative Philosophy

Great advertising doesn't interrupt people's lives. It reflects them. ACO doesn't create advertisements about household gel. ACO creates stories about real people solving everyday problems with less effort and more confidence. Our creative work should feel:

- Authentic
- Practical
- Optimistic
- Human
- Helpful
- Bright
- Confident
- Relatable

The product is never the destination. It is the bridge between an everyday challenge and a better everyday life.

8.2 The Creative Formula

Every piece of creative work should follow the same journey.

Identify

Help people immediately recognise themselves. ↓

Interrupt

Introduce an everyday challenge. ↓

Simplify

Show ACO making life easier. ↓

Reward

Reveal the emotional benefit. ↓

Remember

Reconnect with the brand promise. One Solution. Simpler Living. This structure should guide every campaign regardless of platform.

8.3 The Story Matrix

This is ACO's creative engine.

Every campaign should begin with one of these proven story territories.

Story Everyday Emotional Product Demonstration End Benefit Territory Problem Driver

Busy Morning No time to Relief One solution for multiple Start the day clean rooms with confidence

Unexpected Home isn't Confidence Fast whole-home Ready to Guests ready cleaning welcome anyone

Weekend Entire house Satisfaction One product from room Fresh start for Reset needs cleaning to room the week

Family Care Caring for loved Protection Daily household cleaning Peace of mind ones

Smart Too many Pride One bottle replacing Simpler Household products many routines

Laundry Day Multiple Efficiency Cleaning laundry spaces Less effort cleaning tasks and surrounding surfaces

Kitchen After Grease and Relief Fast kitchen clean-up More family Dinner mess time

Bathroom Daily hygiene Confidence Easy bathroom cleaning Fresh everyday Refresh comfort

Children's Spills and dirty Patience Quick cleaning More time Messes footprints demonstrations together

Celebration Preparing the Pride Whole-home cleaning A welcoming Preparation home for home visitors

This matrix allows teams to build hundreds of campaigns without starting from scratch.

8.4 Emotional Mapping

Consumers don't buy cleaning products because they love cleaning. They buy the feeling that comes after. Before Using ACO After Using ACO Overwhelmed Organised Frustrated Relaxed Pressured Confident Busy In Control Embarrassed Proud Tired Energised Stressed Comfortable Every creative should visibly move the audience from the left side to the right.

8.5 Creative Territories

Every campaign should belong to one of five core territories.

Simplify Life

Show how ACO removes unnecessary effort. Examples:

- One solution for every room.
- Less clutter.
- Less time cleaning.

Proof Through Demonstration

Build trust through visible product performance. Examples:

- Before and after.
- Side-by-side demonstrations.
- Multiple room cleaning.

Everyday Living

Celebrate ordinary household moments. Examples:

- Busy mornings.
- Weekend routines.
- Family meals.
- Guests arriving.

Smart Choices

Position ACO as the practical household decision. Examples:

- Saving money.
- Saving storage space.
- Simplifying routines.

Caring Homes

Show cleaning as an act of love and responsibility.

Examples:

- Parents preparing the home.
- Children helping.
- Families cleaning together.

8.6 Campaign Architecture

Every monthly campaign should follow a consistent progression. Week 1 — Recognition Introduce a relatable household challenge.

Week 2 — Discovery Reveal how ACO simplifies the task.

Week 3 — Demonstration Build confidence through visible proof.

Week 4 — Lifestyle Celebrate the benefits of simpler living. This structure ensures campaigns feel connected rather than isolated.

8.7 Creative Filter

Every creative concept should pass these tests.

Recognition

Can the audience identify with the situation immediately?

Simplicity

Is the solution obviously easier?

Authenticity

Could this genuinely happen in an Angolan home?

Demonstration

Does the product clearly solve the problem?

Emotional Reward

Does the audience feel something beyond seeing a clean surface?

Memorability

Will people remember the story and the feeling after the advertisement ends? If any answer is "No," revisit the concept.

8.8 Creative Guardrails

Every ACO campaign should:

- Begin with people before products.
- Demonstrate rather than explain.
- Focus on one key benefit.

- Use bright, authentic environments.
- Show realistic cleaning routines.
- Keep messaging simple.
- End with confidence and optimism. Avoid:
- Unrealistic luxury homes.
- Fear-based messaging.
- Overly technical explanations.
- Excessive humour that distracts from the message.
- Product-only advertisements with no human story.

8.9 The Creative Compass

Before approving any campaign, ask four questions: Can people identify with this? ↓ Does it simplify an everyday challenge? ↓ Does ACO naturally solve the problem? ↓ Does the ending reinforce: One Solution. Simpler Living. If every answer is Yes , the campaign is aligned with the brand.

8.10 Campaign Blueprint Library

To help agencies and creative teams develop campaigns efficiently, ACO uses a library of proven creative blueprints. Blueprint Core Question Best Formats One Solution Can one product replace several? Reels, demonstrations, influencer Challenge videos Before → Better What transformation does ACO Short-form video, statics, create? carousels Day in the Life How does ACO fit naturally into Lifestyle campaigns, brand films daily routines? Time Saver What does the family gain after Emotional storytelling, television cleaning? commercials Smart Choice Why is ACO the practical Retail campaigns, promotional household decision? content Care Routine How does cleaning become an act Family campaigns, community of caring? initiatives Room Journey How does one solution clean Educational videos, product multiple spaces? demonstrations Household Hero Who quietly keeps the home Brand films, seasonal campaigns running? These blueprints create consistency while allowing endless creative variation.

8.11 Creative Asset Framework

Every creative asset should include four essential components. Human Moment A real, relatable situation. ↓

Product Moment

The natural introduction and demonstration of ACO.

↓

Transformation Moment

A visible improvement in both the environment and the person's emotional state.

↓

Brand Moment

A clean, confident ending featuring the product, logo and brand promise.

This structure applies to:

- Social media
- Television
- Radio
- Retail
- Print
- Outdoor
- Digital advertising

8.12 AI Creative Guidelines

When using AI tools to generate visuals or concepts, prompts should always include:

- Authentic Angolan homes.
- Bright natural lighting.
- Practical family environments.
- Realistic household routines.
- Natural product integration.
- Modern but attainable interiors.
- Warm, optimistic atmosphere.
- Clean composition with generous white space.
- Focus on simplicity rather than luxury.

AI should enhance creativity while remaining faithful to the ACO brand world.

8.13 Creative Success Checklist

Before approving any creative, confirm:

- Does it reflect the ACO brand personality?
- Is the situation authentic and relatable?
- Is the product integrated naturally?
- Is the demonstration clear?
- Is there a meaningful emotional payoff?
- Is the visual style consistent with the Visual Identity?

- Does the copy match the Verbal Identity?
- Does the story follow the Storytelling System?
- Does it reinforce One Solution, Simpler Living. ?
- Would consumers recognise this as ACO even without the logo?

Only creative work that meets every standard should be approved.

09

Content Strategy

Purpose

The ACO Content Strategy defines how the brand consistently builds awareness, trust, engagement and loyalty through meaningful, educational and emotionally relevant content. Content should never exist simply to fill a content calendar. Every piece of communication should educate, inspire, reassure or motivate consumers while reinforcing ACO's promise: One Solution. Simpler Living. The objective is not to create more content. The objective is to create better relationships with consumers.

9.1 Content Mission

ACO creates content that helps families simplify everyday cleaning through practical advice, authentic storytelling and visible product demonstrations. Every piece of content should leave consumers thinking:

- "I didn't know ACO could do that."
- "That would make my life easier."
- "That's exactly my situation."
- "I need to try this." If the audience doesn't learn something, feel something or gain something, the content has not achieved its purpose.

9.2 Content Objectives

Every monthly content plan should support at least one of the following objectives.

Build Awareness

Introduce new consumers to ACO and its multipurpose cleaning capabilities.

Build Trust

Demonstrate how the product works using authentic proof rather than exaggerated claims.

Encourage Trial

Reduce purchase barriers by showing how simple and effective ACO is in everyday life.

Build Loyalty

Help existing customers discover new ways to use ACO, increasing product value and repeat purchases.

Create Advocacy

Inspire consumers to recommend ACO through useful content, relatable stories and positive experiences.

9.3 The ACO Content Pyramid

To maintain a healthy balance, monthly content should be structured as follows. Content Type Purpose Recommended Share Educational Teach consumers how to use ACO 30% effectively Inspirational Show how ACO improves everyday life 25%

Demonstration Build confidence through visible proof 20% Community & Lifestyle Celebrate real families and routines 15%

Promotional Encourage purchase and retailer 10% awareness This balance ensures that ACO remains helpful rather than overly promotional.

9.4 Content Pillars

Every piece of content should belong to one of five strategic pillars.

Pillar 1 — Simplify Cleaning

Purpose: Show how ACO removes unnecessary effort from everyday household cleaning. Examples:

- One Bucket Challenge
- One Product, Multiple Rooms
- Time-saving routines
- Cleaning made simple

Pillar 2 — Everyday Living

Purpose: Create identification by showing authentic household moments. Examples:

- Busy mornings
- Weekend reset
- Family meals
- Preparing for guests
- School routines

Pillar 3 — Proof & Demonstration

Purpose: Show—not tell—how ACO performs. Examples:

- Before and after
- Side-by-side comparisons

- Product demonstrations
- Multipurpose cleaning

Pillar 4 — Smart Living

Purpose: Position ACO as the practical household choice. Examples:

- Saving money
- Saving storage space
- Simplifying routines
- Household organisation

Pillar 5 — Caring Homes

Purpose: Celebrate cleaning as an act of care for family and community. Examples:

- Parents preparing the home
- Caring for children
- Family teamwork
- Community clean-up initiatives

9.5 Content Formats

Different content formats achieve different communication objectives. Format Best Used For Short-form Video (15–30 sec) Storytelling, demonstrations and awareness Long-form Video (30–60 sec) Emotional campaigns and product education Static Images Promotions, household tips and reminders Carousel Posts Step-by-step education and product versatility Motion Graphics Product benefits and quick facts User-Generated Content Customer experiences and testimonials Influencer Content Authentic demonstrations and routines The format should always support the message—not dictate it.

9.6 Hero – Hub – Help Model

ACO's content ecosystem should be built using Google's Hero–Hub–Help framework.

Hero Content

Large campaigns that generate awareness and excitement. Examples:

- Television commercials
- Seasonal campaigns
- Brand films
- Major product launches Frequency: Monthly or quarterly.

Hub Content

Regular content that builds familiarity. Examples:

- Stories
- Household routines
- Product demonstrations
- Community moments Frequency: Weekly.

Help Content

Practical information that provides ongoing value. Examples:

- Cleaning tips
- Product usage
- FAQs
- Multipurpose demonstrations
- Household hacks Frequency: Ongoing.

9.7 Seasonal Content Strategy

ACO should naturally align with the rhythm of everyday life. Season Communication Focus New Year Fresh starts and organised homes Rainy Season Mud, indoor cleaning and fresh living School Terms Busy family routines Easter Preparing the home for gatherings Winter Comfort, hygiene and indoor care Women's Month Celebrating everyday caregivers Spring Home refresh and decluttering Christmas Welcoming guests and festive preparation Seasonal content should always reinforce the brand promise rather than follow trends without purpose.

9.8 The 70–20–10 Rule

Every content plan should follow this balance. 70% Core brand content. Household routines. Cleaning demonstrations. Educational content.

20% Seasonal and cultural moments. Public holidays. Community celebrations. Relevant local events.

10% Promotional activity. Retail campaigns. Special offers. Product launches. Consumers should feel supported—not constantly sold to.

9.9 Platform Behaviour

Although the brand personality remains consistent, each platform has a different role. Platform Purpose Facebook Community building, stories and promotions Instagram Lifestyle inspiration, Reels and demonstrations TikTok Discovery through relatable short-form videos YouTube Tutorials, demonstrations and campaign films WhatsApp Promotions, retailer updates and shareable tips LinkedIn Corporate reputation and partnerships

The platform changes.

The personality does not.

9.10 Community Engagement

ACO participates in conversations instead of broadcasting messages.

Every interaction should be:

- Helpful
- Respectful
- Friendly
- Prompt
- Positive
- Solution-focused

Celebrate customer stories.

Answer questions.

Offer practical advice.

Thank people for sharing experiences.

Relationships build brands.

9.11 Content Quality Checklist

Before publishing, ask:

- Does this solve a real household problem?
- Is the message immediately clear?
- Does it align with the ACO brand voice?
- Is the product naturally integrated?
- Is there visible proof?
- Is the emotional reward stronger than the cleaning result?
- Does it belong to one content pillar?
- Is there one clear call to action?

Only publish when every answer is Yes .

9.12 The Consumer Journey

Every piece of content should move consumers through a connected experience. Awareness "I recognise this situation." ↓ Interest "There seems to be an easier way." ↓ Consideration "I can see it works." ↓ Purchase "I should buy ACO." ↓ Loyalty "I'll continue using it." ↓ Advocacy "I'll recommend it." Every post should support the next step in the journey.

9.13 AI Content Creation Guidelines

When using AI-assisted creative tools, every prompt should include:

- Authentic Angolan homes.
- Bright natural lighting.
- Real family routines.
- Practical household situations.
- Natural ACO product placement.
- Warm, welcoming atmosphere.
- Clear demonstration of product use.
- Consistency with the ACO colour palette.
- Alignment with the Visual Identity, Verbal Identity and Storytelling System.

AI should enhance efficiency while protecting brand consistency.

9.14 Annual Content Planning Framework

To maintain consistency throughout the year, every annual content calendar should balance four communication streams:

Communication Purpose Annual Share Stream

Brand Building Strengthen awareness and emotional connection 40%

Education Teach product usage and household solutions 30%

Engagement Build community through stories and participation 20%

Promotion Drive sales and retail activity 10%

This framework ensures that ACO invests in long-term brand equity while supporting short-term commercial objectives.

9.15 Content Success Metrics

Content performance should be evaluated across the full marketing funnel.

Awareness Metrics

- Reach
- Impressions
- Video Views
- Brand Recall
- Follower Growth

Engagement Metrics

- Likes
- Comments
- Shares
- Saves
- Watch Time
- Engagement Rate

Consideration Metrics

- Website Visits
- Profile Visits
- Link Clicks
- Product Enquiries
- Retail Availability Searches

Conversion Metrics

- Sales Growth
- Promotional Redemption
- Retail Sell-through
- Repeat Purchases

Brand Health Metrics

- Positive Sentiment
- Share of Voice
- User-Generated Content
- Community Growth
- Customer Advocacy

10

Video Playbook
Social Media Playbook

Purpose

The ACO Social Media Playbook defines how the brand behaves across every social media platform to build awareness, trust, engagement and long-term loyalty. Social media is not simply a place to advertise products. It is where ACO demonstrates its usefulness, celebrates everyday household victories and builds genuine relationships with consumers. Every post should answer one question: "What value does this give our audience today?" If content doesn't educate, inspire, entertain or solve a problem, it should not be published.

10.1 Social Media Mission

ACO uses social media to make everyday cleaning feel simpler, smarter and more achievable. Our content should help people:

- Learn practical cleaning solutions.
- Discover new ways to use ACO.
- Feel recognised in everyday household situations.
- Build confidence in the product.
- Become advocates for the brand. Social media should always feel like a helpful conversation—not an advertisement.

10.2 Platform Roles

Each platform serves a different purpose while maintaining the same brand personality. Platform Primary Role Content Focus

Facebook Community Stories, household tips, promotions, family engagement Building Instagram Brand Inspiration Reels, lifestyle imagery, demonstrations, product photography TikTok Discovery Fast-paced demonstrations, relatable humour, trends and challenges YouTube Education Tutorials, campaign films, demonstrations and product education WhatsApp Loyalty Retail offers, promotions, cleaning tips and shareable content LinkedIn Corporate Sustainability, partnerships, innovation and company news Reputation The platform changes. The personality does not.

10.3 Content Mix

Every monthly content calendar should maintain a balanced mix. Content Type Recommended Share Storytelling 30% Product 25% Demonstrations Household Tips 20% Community & Lifestyle 15% Promotions 10% Consumers should feel they are following a helpful household brand—not a product catalogue.

10.4 The ACO Social Formula

Every post should follow the same communication structure.

Stop the Scroll

Capture attention immediately. Examples:

- A relatable household problem.
- An unexpected visual.
- A familiar family moment.
- A question. ↓

Recognition

Help the audience think: "That's me." ↓

Solution

Show ACO naturally solving the problem. ↓

Reward

Reveal the emotional benefit. Less stress. More time. Greater confidence. ↓

Action

End with a simple call to action. Examples:

- Discover Simpler Cleaning.
- Try ACO Today.
- One Solution. Simpler Living.

10.5 Caption Framework

Captions should support the visual—not repeat it. Recommended structure: Hook Grab attention immediately. ↓ Recognition Describe the everyday situation. ↓ Benefit Explain how ACO simplifies the task. ↓ CTA Encourage the next action. Example Busy mornings leave little time for complicated cleaning.

With ACO Multipurpose Household Gel, one solution helps you clean multiple spaces quickly—leaving more time for what really matters. One Solution. Simpler Living.

10.6 Video Framework

Short-form video should follow this structure. First 3 Seconds Recognition. Immediately identify the audience.

Seconds 4–10 Introduce the problem.

Seconds 10–20 Show ACO solving the problem.

Final Seconds Reveal the emotional reward. Finish with product, logo and brand promise.

10.7 Static Post Framework

Every static creative should communicate one clear message.

Recommended layout: Headline ↓ Lifestyle Image ↓ Product ↓ Supporting Copy ↓ Logo ↓ Call to Action Avoid clutter. One strong message is more memorable than several weak ones.

10.8 Carousel Framework

Carousels should educate consumers in a simple, progressive way. Recommended flow: Slide 1 Strong hook. ↓ Slide 2 The problem.

↓ Slide 3 Introduce ACO. ↓ Slide 4 Demonstrate the solution. ↓ Slide 5 Reveal the result. ↓ Final Slide Product packshot and CTA.

10.9 Community Management

ACO should respond like a trusted household partner. Every reply should be:

- Friendly
- Helpful
- Respectful
- Positive
- Human
- Solution-focused Avoid:
- Defensive language.
- Arguments.
- Generic copy-and-paste responses.
- Corporate jargon.

Every interaction should strengthen trust.

10.10 Response Standards

Situation Response Style Product Helpful, informative and encouraging Question Complaint Empathetic, respectful and solution-focused Compliment Thank the customer and encourage continued engagement Cleaning Advice Practical and supportive Retail Enquiry Helpful with clear guidance Where appropriate, move sensitive conversations into private messages while acknowledging the customer publicly.

10.11 Hashtag Strategy

Hashtags should improve discoverability without overwhelming the caption. Brand Hashtags

- #ACO
- #OneSolutionSimplerLiving
- #SimplerCleaning
- #SmartCleaning
- #EverydayCleaning

Campaign Hashtags Created specifically for campaigns. Examples:

- #OneBucketChallenge
- #WeekendReset
- #CleaningMadeSimple
- #FreshStart

Limit hashtags to 3–5 per post . Quality over quantity.

10.12 Posting Rhythm

Consistency builds familiarity. Recommended weekly rhythm: Day Focus Monday Household Tip Wednesda Storytelling y Friday Product Demonstration Weekend Community or Seasonal Content The schedule can adapt, but consistency is essential.

10.13 Influencer Guidelines

Influencers should behave like trusted members of the community—not actors delivering advertisements. Content should:

- Show authentic homes.
- Demonstrate real routines.
- Speak naturally.
- Use ACO correctly.

- Focus on solving everyday problems. Avoid scripted endorsements that feel artificial. Authenticity creates trust.

10.14 User-Generated Content

Encourage customers to share:

- Cleaning routines.
- Before-and-after results.
- Favourite ACO uses.
- Family cleaning moments.
- Household organisation tips. Always obtain permission before reposting. Celebrate contributors and make them part of the ACO community.

10.15 Crisis Communication

When issues arise:

- 1. Respond quickly.
- 2. Acknowledge the concern.
- 3. Show empathy.
- 4. Offer a practical solution.
- 5. Continue detailed conversations privately where appropriate.
- 6. Follow up once resolved. Transparency builds confidence.

10.16 Social Media Quality Checklist

Before publishing any post, ask:

- Does it stop the scroll?
- Is the problem immediately recognisable?
- Does the audience identify with the story?
- Is ACO naturally integrated?
- Is the benefit obvious?
- Does the visual match the Visual Identity?
- Does the copy match the Verbal Identity?
- Is there one clear message?
- Does it reinforce One Solution. Simpler Living. ?

If every answer is Yes , publish with confidence.

10.17 Social Media Success Metrics

Success should be measured using both engagement and business performance.

Awareness

- Reach
- Impressions
- Video Views
- Follower Growth

Engagement

- Likes
- Comments
- Shares
- Saves
- Watch Time
- Engagement Rate

Consideration

- Website Visits
- Profile Visits
- Product Enquiries
- Link Clicks

Conversion

- Retail Sales
- Promotion Redemptions
- Repeat Purchases
- Website Conversions

Brand Health

- Positive Sentiment
- Share of Voice
- User-Generated Content
- Community Growth

Strong communities create stronger brands.

10.18 Social Media Operating Principles

Every person creating content for ACO should follow these principles:

- Educate before you sell.
- Show before you tell.
- People before products.
- Benefits before features.
- Authenticity before perfection.
- Consistency before trends.
- Conversations before campaigns.

These principles ensure that every post contributes to long-term brand equity rather than short-term engagement alone.

11

Video & Film Production Playbook

Purpose

The Video & Film Production Playbook establishes the creative, technical and storytelling standards for every moving-image asset produced by ACO. Whether it's a 15-second Reel, a 30-second television commercial, a retail screen animation, an influencer video or a 60-second brand film, every video should immediately feel unmistakably ACO. Video is where the brand comes alive. It should never feel like an advert. It should feel like a moment from everyday life. Every production must reinforce one promise: One Solution. Simpler Living.

11.1 The ACO Film Philosophy

People don't remember products. They remember moments. They remember emotions. They remember stories they recognise. The purpose of every ACO video is not to demonstrate cleaning. It is to demonstrate how simpler cleaning creates a better life. Every film should answer: "What becomes possible because ACO made this easier?" The cleaner home is never the destination. It is the beginning of something better.

11.2 The ACO Video DNA

Every video should contain these six elements. Recognition "I know this situation." ↓ Problem "This is frustrating." ↓ Discovery "There is an easier way." ↓ Demonstration "I can see it works." ↓ Transformation "Life feels easier." ↓ Reinforcement "One Solution. Simpler Living." Regardless of video length, this emotional journey should remain consistent.

11.3 The First Three Seconds Rule

The first three seconds determine whether people continue watching. Every opening must answer three questions immediately: Who is this? ↓ What's happening? ↓ Why should I care? The audience should recognise themselves before they notice the product.

Strong Opening Examples

- A child spilling juice across the floor.
- A parent looking at five different cleaning bottles.
- Guests unexpectedly ringing the doorbell.
- Muddy footprints entering the house.
- A busy mother racing against time.
- A father preparing the house before visitors arrive.

Weak Openings

- Product spinning in the air.
- Animated logo.
- Product on a white background.
- Long introduction.
- Product features.
- Corporate branding. Stories first. Products second.

11.4 Video Structure by Length

15-Second Reel

0–3 sec Recognition ↓ 3–6 sec Problem ↓ 6–11 sec Solution & Demonstration ↓ 11–15 sec Packshot + Brand Promise

30-Second Brand Video

0–5 sec Recognition ↓ 5–10 sec Conflict ↓

10–20 sec ACO Demonstration ↓ 20–26 sec Lifestyle Reward ↓ 26–30 sec Packshot + CTA

60-Second Hero Film

Introduction ↓ Recognition ↓ Conflict ↓ Emotional Development ↓ ACO Demonstration ↓ Transformation ↓ Family Moment ↓

Brand Ending

11.5 Cinematic Direction

ACO films should feel:

- Warm
- Bright
- Natural
- Authentic
- Human
- Practical
- Emotional
- Aspirational yet attainable

Never theatrical.

Never artificial.

Never over-produced.

The audience should feel like they are observing real life.

11.6 Camera Language

The camera should support the story—not distract from it.

Preferred camera work includes:

- Gentle handheld movement.
- Slow push-ins.
- Natural tracking shots.
- Eye-level perspectives.
- Realistic movement following characters.

Avoid:

- Excessive drone shots.
- Dramatic whip pans.
- Hyper-fast zooms.
- Overly cinematic camera tricks.
- Distracting visual effects. The camera should feel invisible.

11.7 Shot Hierarchy

Every ACO production should balance four shot types.

Establishing Shots

Show the home and environment. Create context.

Lifestyle Shots

Capture family interactions and everyday routines.

Demonstration Shots

Show ACO in use. Include:

- Pouring.
- Dilution.
- Wiping.
- Mopping.
- Cleaning action.
- Product handling.

Emotional Close-Ups

Capture:

- Smiles.
- Relief.
- Pride.
- Family connection.
- Satisfaction.

The emotion is as important as the product.

11.8 Lighting Style

Lighting should always feel natural.

Characteristics:

- Daylight.
- Soft shadows.
- Bright interiors.
- Warm but neutral colour temperature.
- Clean highlights.

Avoid:

- Heavy shadows.
- Moody lighting.
- Coloured lighting.
- Overexposure.
- Harsh flash.

Light represents cleanliness.

11.9 Colour Grading

Every ACO film should feel:

- Clean.
- Vibrant.
- Fresh.
- Bright.
- Realistic.

Avoid:

- Dark cinematic grades.
- Desaturated colours.
- Heavy teal-and-orange grading.
- Artificial filters.

The colour palette should support the Visual Identity.

11.10 Product Demonstration Standards

Every demonstration should clearly answer:

"How does ACO make this task easier?"

Show:

- Correct product usage.
- Correct dilution ratio.
- Realistic application.
- Multiple rooms.
- Visible cleaning action.
- Realistic results.

Never exaggerate.

Trust is built through believable demonstrations.

11.11 Editing Style

Editing should feel invisible.

Preferred techniques:

- Straight cuts.
- Match cuts.
- Action cuts.
- Natural pacing.
- Clean typography.
- Gentle transitions.

Avoid:

- Excessive motion graphics.
- Distracting transitions.
- Flash effects.
- Trend-driven editing that dates quickly.

The story should always remain clear.

11.12 Music Direction

Music should reinforce optimism.

Preferred genres:

- Afro-pop instrumentals.
- Acoustic.
- Contemporary lifestyle.
- Soft percussion.
- Positive upbeat rhythms.

Music should support emotion—not overpower it.

11.13 Sound Design

Natural sound makes stories believable.

Include:

- Water.
- Footsteps.
- Mop movement.
- Cloth wiping.
- Children laughing.
- Kitchen ambience.
- Doors opening.
- Birds outside. Real sound creates immersion.

11.14 Typography in Video

On-screen text should be minimal. Rules:

- Maximum one message per scene.
- Large, readable typography.
- High contrast.
- Consistent brand font.
- Never cover faces.
- Never hide demonstrations. Examples: One Solution. Multiple Rooms. Less Effort. More Time.

11.15 Packshot Standards

Every video should finish consistently. Include:

- Product front-facing.
- Correct packaging.
- Official ACO logo.
- Variant colour.
- White background or clean branded environment.
- CTA.
- Brand promise.

The final frame should feel calm and premium.

11.16 Video Categories

Hero Brand Films

Purpose:

Build emotional connection.

Characteristics:

- Story-first.
- Cinematic.
- Family-led.
- Lifestyle-focused.

Social Reels

Purpose:

Generate engagement.

Characteristics:

- Fast hook.
- Strong recognition.
- One problem.
- One solution.

Product Demonstrations

Purpose: Educate. Characteristics:

- Clear.
- Practical.

- Close-up.
- Benefit-focused.

Retail Screens

Purpose: Drive purchase. Characteristics:

- Short.
- Bold.
- Product-focused.
- Highly visual.

Influencer Videos

Purpose: Authenticity. Characteristics:

- Self-shot.
- Everyday homes.
- Honest experiences.
- Natural language.

11.17 Production Principles

Every production should prioritise:

- Authentic Angolan homes.
- Diverse Angolan families.
- Practical wardrobes.
- Real performances.
- Everyday routines.
- Natural dialogue.
- Genuine emotion.

Avoid:

- Luxury mansions.
- Perfect show homes.
- Actors behaving unnaturally.
- Overly scripted conversations.

The audience should believe every moment.

11.18 AI Video Production Guidelines

When generating AI-assisted video concepts, prompts should always specify:

- Authentic Angolan family homes.
- Bright natural daylight.
- Modern but attainable interiors.
- Warm family interactions.
- Correct ACO packaging.
- Product used naturally.
- Clean compositions.
- Realistic human movement.
- Believable cleaning demonstrations.
- Consistency with the ACO Visual Identity.

AI should enhance creativity while preserving realism and brand integrity.

11.19 Video Quality Control Checklist

Before approving any production, confirm:

- Does the opening stop the scroll within three seconds?
- Is the situation immediately relatable?
- Does the audience identify with the characters?
- Is the product introduced naturally?
- Is the demonstration believable and clear?
- Does the story create an emotional payoff?
- Is the lighting bright and authentic?
- Does the colour grading match the ACO brand?
- Is the final packshot clean and consistent?
- Does the ending reinforce One Solution. Simpler Living. ?

Every answer should be Yes before approval.

11.20 The ACO Signature Viewing

Experience

Every ACO video should consistently guide the audience through this emotional journey: Recognition ↓ Empathy ↓ Discovery ↓ Confidence ↓ Relief ↓

Trust This emotional progression is what transforms ACO from a household cleaning product into a trusted everyday companion.

12

Static Design Playbook

12.1 Purpose

Every ACO static should communicate one simple idea in under three seconds. The design should never feel like an advert. It should feel like a useful moment from everyday life. People should notice the situation first... ...then the product. Our visuals should make consumers think: "That's exactly my house." not "They're trying to sell me something."

12.2 Static Design Principles

Every design follows six principles.

1. Simplicity Wins

Never overcrowd layouts. One message. One emotion. One action.

2. People Before Product

Humans create emotional connection.

Product creates rational justification. The order should always be: Person ↓ Situation ↓ Problem ↓ Product ↓ Benefit

3. Real Homes

Everything should feel lived in. Not luxury. Not poverty. Middle-income Angolan households. Examples:

- Plastic bucket
- Mop
- Children's shoes
- Open windows
- Laundry basket
- Kitchen towel
- Dining table These small details create authenticity.

4. Everyday Light

Natural daylight. Soft shadows. Warm atmosphere. Avoid:

- Dramatic lighting
- Studio flash
- Artificial HDR effects

5. Clean Doesn't Mean Empty

ACO creates cleanliness— not perfection. Homes should look:

- Used
- Loved
- Organised
- Comfortable Not staged.

6. Product is the Hero…

…but only at the end. The product should never dominate the image immediately. It earns attention because it solved the problem.

12.3 Visual Formula

Every static should follow this structure.

Layer 1

Background (real environment) ↓

Layer 2

Situation (person cleaning) ↓

Layer 3

Emotional cue (smile, relief, satisfaction) ↓

Layer 4

Product ↓

Layer 5

Headline ↓

Layer 6

Supporting copy ↓

Layer 7

Logo + CTA

12.4 The ACO Layout System

There are only four approved layouts.

Layout A

Lifestyle Hero Large lifestyle image Small product Headline CTA Best for

- Awareness
- Emotional storytelling

Layout B

Product Education Large product Benefits around product Icons Ingredients Best for

- Product education
- Benefits
- Ingredients

Layout C

Problem vs Solution Split layout Before ↓ After Product in centre Best for

- Demonstrations
- Comparison

Layout D

Quick Tip Card Large headline Small lifestyle image Product One cleaning tip Perfect for

- Engagement
- Saves
- Shares

12.5 Typography Hierarchy

Headline Largest element Maximum: 8 words Subheadline Supports headline Maximum: 20 words Body Copy Maximum: 40 words CTA

2–4 words only Examples TRY IT TODAY MAKE CLEAN EASY ONE SOLUTION DISCOVER MORE

12.6 Image Composition

Rule of Thirds. Avoid placing everything centrally. Allow breathing room. Product should occupy roughly: 15–20% of the design. Lifestyle imagery: 70–80%. Text: 10%.

12.7 White Space Rules

Minimum spacing between elements: 24 px Never allow text to touch edges.

Allow the design to breathe. Luxury comes from spacing. Not decoration.

12.8 Colour Usage

Use the official ACO colour system established in Step 5. Primary Colours

- ACO Red – Energy, confidence, brand recognition.
- White – Cleanliness, freshness, clarity.
- Fresh Green – Nature, hygiene, everyday freshness.
- Deep Blue – Trust, reliability, protection.

Variant Colours

- Pine Green – Pine Gel products.
- Lavender Purple – Lavender variants. Guidelines:
- White should dominate the layout.
- Use Red for emphasis and calls to action.
- Green should reinforce freshness, not overwhelm.
- Avoid gradients unless used subtly in backgrounds.
- Never introduce colours outside the approved palette.

12.9 Icon Style

Icons should be: ✓ Rounded ✓ Simple ✓ Flat

✓ Minimal Never: ❌ 3D ❌ Cartoon ❌ Highly detailed

12.10 Graphic Elements

Approved elements:

- Soft circles
- Rounded rectangles
- Organic shapes
- Light dotted patterns
- Sparkle accents (used sparingly) Avoid: ❌ Heavy borders ❌ Thick outlines ❌ Busy textures ❌ Excessive shadows

12.11 Packshot Standards

Packshots should always:

- Face forward.
- Be high resolution.

- Have realistic soft shadows.
- Maintain accurate proportions.
- Never be stretched, cropped, or distorted.
- Have sufficient breathing room from text and edges. For multipack or range visuals:
- Hero product should be largest.
- Variants should be arranged logically by category or colour.
- Maintain consistent spacing.

12.12 Static Content Templates

Every static should fit into one of these proven templates: Template Purpose Lifestyle Story Emotional connection Cleaning Tip Educational value Product Spotlight Feature a single product Ingredient Focus Build trust through ingredients Before & After Demonstrate effectiveness Myth vs Fact Correct misconceptions Did You Know? Increase engagement Checklist Saveable practical content Seasonal Connect to timely moments Reminder Testimonial Build social proof

12.13 Design QA Checklist

Before approving any static, confirm:

✓ The message is understood within 3 seconds. ✓ The visual feels authentically Angolan. ✓ The product supports the story rather than dominating it. ✓ Colours follow the official brand palette. ✓ Typography is clear and consistent. ✓ Spacing is balanced. ✓ The CTA is short and action-oriented. ✓ The design works on both mobile and desktop. ✓ Branding is present but not overpowering. ✓ The overall feeling is simple, warm, practical, and trustworthy.

13

Brand Photography Playbook

13.1 Photography Philosophy

ACO photography should celebrate real life made simpler . We don't photograph products. We photograph the lives that become easier because of the products. Every image should answer one question: "What does life feel like after ACO has done the hard work?" The emotion is never excitement. It is:

- Relief
- Calm
- Confidence
- Comfort
- Pride
- Satisfaction Consumers should see themselves—not models.

13.2 The ACO Photography Formula

Every photograph should contain these five layers.

Layer 1 — Everyday Environment

The setting always comes first. Examples:

- Kitchen
- Bathroom
- Laundry room
- Bedroom
- Dining room
- Patio
- Small apartment
- Family home The environment tells the story before the people do.

Layer 2 — Human Story

Someone is doing something. Not posing. Examples Cleaning Packing away toys Wiping a counter Doing laundry Helping a child Opening windows Preparing food Real moments. Never staged moments.

Layer 3 — Emotional Payoff

Every image must communicate one feeling. Examples "I finished." "It's finally clean."

"I can relax." "My family is protected." This emotion should be visible through expressions and body language—not exaggerated smiles.

Layer 4 — Product Presence

The product appears naturally. It belongs in the scene. Never floating. Never oversized. Never artificially highlighted. The product is the helper. Not the celebrity.

Layer 5 — Brand Signature

Freshness Light Space Warmth These should be felt without needing text.

13.3 Photography Pillars

Every image should fit into one of six categories.

Everyday Cleaning

Cleaning kitchen surfaces Bathrooms Floors Laundry Windows

Family Moments

Parents cleaning together Children helping responsibly Shared routines Weekend cleaning Preparing the home

Product Demonstration

Using diluted solution Pouring into bucket Cleaning surfaces Spraying cloth Correct usage

Results

Fresh rooms

Shiny surfaces Organised spaces Happy family afterwards

Product Beauty

Premium packshots Ingredient details Range photography Texture photography

Community

Neighbourhood Small businesses Schools Churches Community halls ACO belongs everywhere people care for shared spaces.

13.4 Photography Style

Natural Never overly polished. Documentary

Capture moments as they happen. Warm Soft colours. Comfortable homes. Human People drive every image. Practical Everything should feel achievable.

13.5 Lighting Standards

Preferred lighting: Morning sunlight Late afternoon sunlight Soft window light Indirect natural light Avoid Flash photography Blue lighting High contrast Harsh shadows Artificial HDR Overexposed whites Lighting should feel as if the viewer could step into the room.

13.6 Colour Grading

The final image should feel: Warm Fresh Bright Natural Skin tones should remain accurate. Whites should feel clean—not blue. Greens should appear fresh—not neon. Avoid: Heavy filters Instagram presets Vintage effects Muted grey aesthetics Over-saturation

13.7 Composition Rules

Follow the Rule of Thirds. Leave breathing room. Allow text placement if required. Show context.

Don't crop too tightly. Products should appear naturally within the composition. Negative space is encouraged.

13.8 Camera Angles

Approved angles: Eye level 45° angle Over-the-shoulder Close-up details Wide environmental shots Hands in action Avoid: Extreme low angles Extreme overhead shots (unless instructional) Dutch angles Distorted perspectives

13.9 Cropping Standards

People should never feel cramped. Avoid cutting: Hands

Feet Heads Products Important household details Leave sufficient negative space for digital adaptations.

13.10 Focus

Focus should always be intentional. Lifestyle: Sharp person Soft background Product: Sharp product Soft surroundings Detail: Shallow depth of field Result: Entire room sharp

13.11 Casting Guidelines

People should represent the diversity of Angola. Cast:

Young adults Parents Grandparents Children (where appropriate) Small business owners Cleaners Working professionals Students Wardrobe should be simple, practical, and seasonally appropriate. Avoid: Luxury fashion Heavy makeup Designer branding Perfectly styled hair Unrealistic grooming People should feel familiar, approachable, and authentic.

13.12 Wardrobe

Colours White Cream Olive Soft blue

Grey Earth tones Avoid: Busy patterns Neon colours Large logos Luxury brands Distracting accessories Wardrobe should support the story—not compete with it.

13.13 Props

Recommended props Buckets Microfibre cloths Mops Brooms Laundry baskets Cleaning gloves (occasionally) Fresh towels Plants Children's toys Dining items Kitchen utensils

Fresh fruit Open windows Natural décor Avoid: Excessive decoration Luxury interiors Visible clutter that distracts from the story Branded products from competitors

13.14 Home Environment Standards

Homes should feel: Clean Comfortable Lived-in Organised Warm Real Not perfect. Signs of life should remain. Examples: Children's drawings Books Shoes

Laundry basket Family photographs Indoor plants These details create emotional authenticity.

13.15 Product Photography Standards

Packshots should always be: Front-facing Colour accurate High resolution Well lit Shadowed naturally Consistent across every product Reflections should be subtle. No floating products unless specifically required for educational graphics.

13.16 Detail Photography

Capture close-ups of: Pouring the product Mixing with water Foam Freshly cleaned surfaces

Hands cleaning Water droplets Fabric textures Wood grain Tile shine These images add richness to campaigns and educational content.

13.17 Seasonal Photography

Rainy season Indoor warmth Wet floors Protective cleaning School season Lunchboxes Uniforms Morning routines Festive periods Preparing the home Hosting family Community gatherings Women's Month Women leading with confidence Shared household responsibilities

Back-to-routine Organising Deep cleaning Fresh starts Photography should evolve with the calendar while maintaining a consistent visual language.

13.18 Photography Do's

✓ Show authentic Angolan lifestyles. ✓ Prioritise natural light. ✓ Tell a story in every frame. ✓ Capture genuine expressions. ✓ Leave room for copy placement. ✓ Show realistic homes. ✓ Integrate the product naturally. ✓ Celebrate everyday achievements.

13.19 Photography Don'ts

✗ Overly posed smiles. ✗ Sterile showroom homes. ✗ Unrealistic luxury lifestyles. ✗ Heavy editing. ✗ Artificial colour grading.

✗ Cluttered compositions.

✗ Oversized products.

✗ Generic stock-photo aesthetics.

✗ Inconsistent lighting.

✗ Emotionless scenes.

13.20 Photography Quality Checklist

Before approving any photograph, ask:

- Does this feel unmistakably Angolan?
- Does it tell a story without words?
- Is the environment authentic?
- Is the lighting natural and inviting?
- Does the image evoke calm, confidence, or relief?
- Is the product integrated naturally?
- Is there enough negative space for design?

- Are skin tones and product colours accurate?
- Could this image be recognised as ACO even without the logo?
- Does it reinforce the promise: "One solution. Everyday confidence.

14

Motion Design & Animation Playbook

14.1 Motion Philosophy

Motion should make communication feel clearer , more human , and more helpful .

Animation should never exist simply because it can.

Every movement must have a purpose.

Movement should communicate:

- Simplicity
- Freshness
- Confidence
- Progress
- Transformation

Consumers should never notice the animation itself—they should notice how effortlessly the message is understood.

14.2 Motion Personality

If ACO's motion were a person, it would move:

- Calmly
- Deliberately
- Smoothly
- Naturally
- Confidently

Never:

- Hyperactive
- Aggressive
- Chaotic
- Overly playful
- Trend-chasing

14.3 Motion Principles

Every animation should follow five principles. Reveal Information appears progressively. Never overload viewers with everything at once.

Guide Motion directs the eye to the most important information.

Reinforce Movement should strengthen the message. Never distract from it.

Reward Small animations provide satisfying visual feedback. Example: Product slides into place after the cleaning result is revealed.

Simplify Animation should make understanding easier. Not more complicated.

14.4 Motion Timing

Recommended durations: Micro interactions: 0.2–0.4 seconds Element transitions: 0.4–0.8 seconds Scene transitions: 0.8–1.2 seconds Animated statics: 5–8 seconds Educational loops: 8–12 seconds Reels: 15–30 seconds Long-form explainers: 30–60 seconds

14.5 Typography Animation

Text should never bounce, shake, rotate wildly, or explode onto the screen. Preferred animations:

- Fade In
- Slide Up
- Slide Left
- Soft Scale (95% → 100%)
- Mask Reveal
- Progressive Build

Headlines appear first.

Supporting copy follows.

CTA appears last.

14.6 Product Animation

Products should feel physically grounded.

Preferred movements:

- Gentle slide
- Soft fade
- Slight scale-up
- Natural rotation (maximum 10°)
- Pouring demonstrations
- Realistic liquid flow

Avoid:

- Floating products
- Fast spinning

- Elastic bouncing
- Cartoon exaggeration

14.7 Icon Animation

Icons should communicate meaning instantly.

Approved animations:

- Draw-on outline
- Fade
- Scale
- Pulse (subtle)
- Tick reveal
- Wipe reveal

Maximum animation duration:

0.6 seconds

14.8 Transition System

Approved transitions:

- Dissolve
- Crossfade
- Match Cut
- Push
- Wipe
- Natural camera movement

Avoid:

- Glitches
- Flash transitions
- Zoom explosions
- Random spins
- Digital distortion
- Overuse of motion blur

14.9 Animated Static Framework

Every animated static should follow this sequence:

- 1. Hook (0–2 sec)
- Bold headline or relatable visual.
- 2. Build (2–5 sec)
- Show the problem or cleaning moment.
- 3. Resolution (5–7 sec)
- Introduce ACO naturally.
- 4. End Frame (7–8 sec)
- Product
- Logo
- CTA

14.10 Reel Motion System

Recommended pacing: 0–3 sec: Recognition 3–8 sec: Problem 8–15 sec: Solution 15–25 sec: Transformation 25–30 sec: Packshot + CTA Each scene should feel like a natural continuation of the previous one.

14.11 Logo Animation

The logo should animate with restraint. Approved methods:

- Soft fade
- Gentle scale
- Wipe reveal
- Minimal slide Animation duration: 0.5–1 second

Never distort, stretch, rotate, or apply flashy effects to the logo.

14.12 Motion Graphics

Motion graphics should support understanding. Use for:

- Ingredient explanations
- Product dilution ratios
- Cleaning tips
- Benefit callouts
- Educational content Style: Rounded shapes Clean icons Brand colours Minimal complexity

14.13 Sound & Motion Relationship

Motion should feel synchronized with audio. Preferred sound cues:

- Soft water splashes
- Gentle wipes
- Light clicks
- Natural ambience
- Subtle whooshes Avoid:
- Loud impacts
- Cartoon sounds
- Overly dramatic effects
- Excessive bass hits

14.14 Motion Across Platforms

Instagram & Facebook

- Fast opening (first 2–3 seconds)
- Captions always included
- Optimised for vertical viewing

TikTok

- Native-feeling edits
- Slightly quicker pace
- Maintain brand discipline despite trends

YouTube

- More deliberate pacing
- Longer demonstrations
- Educational storytelling

Retail Screens

- Silent-first communication
- Large typography
- Simple looping animations

14.15 Motion Accessibility

Every animation should:

- Include captions where speech exists.
- Avoid flashing elements.
- Maintain readable text contrast.
- Keep animations smooth and comfortable.
- Ensure key information is understandable without sound.

14.16 Motion QA Checklist

Before approving any animation, confirm: ✓ Motion supports the message. ✓ Timing feels calm and deliberate. ✓ Product movements are realistic. ✓ Typography is readable. ✓ Transitions are consistent. ✓ Brand colours remain accurate. ✓ Sound complements visuals. ✓ Logo treatment is correct. ✓ Animation works without audio. ✓ The overall experience feels unmistakably ACO.

15

Campaign System & Creative Framework

15.1 Campaign Philosophy

ACO campaigns should never be built around products. They should be built around real-life moments where cleanliness creates confidence . The product is the enabler—not the story. Every campaign should answer: "What everyday challenge are we helping people overcome?"

15.2 Campaign Architecture

All campaigns follow a three-tier structure. Hero Large, high-impact storytelling campaigns. Purpose:

- Build awareness
- Create emotional connection
- Introduce a key message Examples:
- National TV-style films
- Brand campaigns
- Seasonal launches

Hub Regular content that keeps the audience engaged. Examples:

- Reels
- Lifestyle videos
- Educational posts
- Community stories
- Product demonstrations

Help

Always-on practical content that provides value.

Examples:

- Cleaning tips
- FAQs
- Product usage guides
- Ingredient education
- Household hacks

15.3 Annual Campaign Cycle

Q1 – Fresh Start

- Organising the home
- Back-to-school

- New routines

Q2 – Everyday Confidence

- Family hygiene
- Product education
- Community care

Q3 – Seasonal Protection

- Weather-related cleaning
- Shared spaces
- Family wellbeing

Q4 – Celebration & Hospitality

- Holiday preparation
- Hosting guests
- Deep cleaning
- Community gatherings

Campaigns should align with local Angolan cultural moments, public holidays, school calendars, and seasonal behaviours.

15.4 Campaign Story Framework

Every campaign should follow the same narrative arc:

- 1. Recognition
- Present a familiar situation.
- 2. Friction
- Highlight the cleaning challenge.
- 3. Discovery
- Introduce ACO naturally.
- 4. Demonstration
- Show how it works.
- 5. Transformation
- Reveal the result.
- 6. Reinforcement
- Close with the brand promise and call to action.

15.5 Campaign Objectives

Each campaign should have one primary objective.

Possible objectives:

- Brand awareness
- Product education
- Trial
- Purchase intent
- Seasonal relevance
- Community engagement
- Retail activation
- Loyalty

Avoid trying to achieve multiple primary objectives in a single campaign.

15.6 Campaign Content Mix

A recommended integrated campaign mix:

- 1 Hero Video
- 2 Short Reels
- 4 Static Posts
- 2 Animated Statics
- 3 Stories
- 1 Product Education Carousel
- 1 Community Engagement Post
- 1 Retail or Promotion Asset

This mix can be scaled based on campaign size and budget.

15.7 Creative Brief Framework

Every creative brief should answer:

- What business problem are we solving?
- Who is the primary audience?
- What insight are we using?
- What single message should people remember?
- What emotion should they feel?
- What action should they take?
- Which product is being featured?
- How will success be measured?

15.8 Campaign Measurement

Track performance across three levels:

Brand

- Reach
- Awareness
- Brand recall

Engagement

- Views
- Watch time
- Saves
- Shares
- Comments

Business

- Click-through rate
- Retail enquiries
- Sales uplift
- Repeat purchase
- Market penetration

15.9 Creative Guardrails

Every campaign must: ✓ Start with a relatable human moment. ✓ Show authentic Angolan environments. ✓ Present one core message. ✓ Demonstrate the product naturally. ✓ Use the approved visual identity. ✓ Maintain the ACO tone of voice. ✓ Finish with a clear call to action. Never:

✗ Build the campaign around the packshot alone.

✗ Rely on exaggerated claims.

✗ Use fear-based messaging.

✗ Sacrifice clarity for visual spectacle.

15.10 Cross-Platform Integration

Campaign assets should be planned as one connected ecosystem.

A single campaign idea should be adapted into:

- Hero video
- Reels

- Static posts
- Stories
- Carousels
- Retail POS
- Outdoor advertising
- Website banners
- Email marketing
- Community activations

Each asset should reinforce the same message while being optimised for its specific channel.

15.11 Campaign QA Checklist

Before launching any campaign, verify:

- Is the insight rooted in a real consumer need?
- Does the campaign tell one clear story?
- Is the product integrated naturally?
- Does every asset feel visually consistent?
- Is the messaging simple and memorable?
- Does the campaign reflect authentic Angolan life?
- Are all channels aligned around one central idea?
- Is there a clear success metric?
- Does the campaign strengthen long-term brand equity, not just short-term sales?

16

Product Communication Framework

16.1 Product Communication Philosophy

People don't buy cleaning products because they want a cleaner. They buy them because they want:

- A healthier family.
- A home they are proud of.
- Less time cleaning.
- Confidence that the job is done properly. ACO should never sell products.

ACO sells confidence through cleanliness . Every product communication should answer: "How does this improve everyday life?"

16.2 The ACO Product Communication

Pyramid

Every product message should move from facts to feelings. Level 1 – Product

- What is it? ↓

Level 2 – Function

- What does it do? ↓

Level 3 – Benefit

- Why does that matter?

↓ Level 4 – Emotional Outcome

- How does life feel afterwards? Example:

Product: Pine Gel ↓ Function: Cleans multiple household surfaces. ↓ Benefit: One solution replaces several cleaners. ↓ Emotional Outcome: Less stress. More time for family.

16.3 The Benefit Hierarchy

Every communication should prioritise benefits in this order: Primary Benefit The one reason to buy. Example: One product for everyday cleaning.

Secondary Benefits Support the primary benefit. Examples:

- Pleasant fragrance
- Effective cleaning
- Easy dilution

- Value for money

Emotional Benefit The lasting feeling. Examples:

- Peace of mind
- Pride in the home
- Confidence
- Simplicity

16.4 Features vs Benefits

Never stop at features. Always translate them into consumer value. Feature Benefit Concentrated formula Lasts longer and saves money. Multipurpose Fewer products to buy and store. Fresh fragrance The home feels welcoming. Easy dilution Simple to prepare and use. Effective cleaning Less effort for better results.

16.5 Ingredient Communication

Ingredients should reassure—not overwhelm.

Consumers care more about what ingredients do than what they are called. Example: Instead of: "Contains Pine Oil." Say: "Pine Oil helps leave your home feeling naturally fresh." Instead of listing chemicals, explain their role in everyday language.

16.6 Product Claims Framework

Every claim should be:

- Truthful
- Verifiable
- Simple
- Relevant Avoid exaggerated or absolute claims unless legally substantiated. Preferred language:
- Helps clean...
- Designed to...
- Leaves surfaces feeling...
- Supports everyday hygiene...
- Suitable for... Avoid:
- Best ever.
- Guaranteed.
- Perfect.
- Kills all germs.

- 100% protection.

16.7 Product Storytelling Formula

Every product communication follows this structure:

- 1. Everyday situation ↓
- 2. Cleaning challenge ↓
- 3. Product introduction ↓
- 4. Demonstration ↓
- 5. Everyday benefit ↓
- 6. Emotional reward

16.8 Product Education Framework

Educational content should answer:

- What is it?
- How does it work?
- When should I use it?
- How much should I use?
- Why should I choose it?
- How does it fit into my routine? Education should feel empowering, never technical.

16.9 Product Portfolio Communication

When showing multiple products: Always lead with the consumer need. Not the product category. Example: Instead of: "Our Product Range" Use: "A solution for every room in your home." Group products by usage:

- Floors
- Bathrooms
- Kitchens
- Laundry
- Everyday cleaning This helps consumers choose quickly.

16.10 Product Comparison Rules

Never attack competitors. Compare situations—not brands. Example: Instead of: "Better than Brand X." Use: "One solution instead of multiple specialised cleaners."

Focus on the value ACO provides.

16.11 Pricing Communication

Avoid communicating price alone. Always frame value. Example: Instead of: "Affordable." Say: "One concentrated bottle helps you clean more with less." This shifts the conversation from cost to value.

16.12 Product Launch Framework

Every new product launch should include:

- Consumer problem
- Product introduction
- Key benefit
- Demonstration
- Everyday use case
- Social proof (where available)
- Call to action

16.13 Product Communication Do's

✓ Speak in everyday language.

✓ Lead with benefits. ✓ Show real usage. ✓ Keep messages concise. ✓ Demonstrate value. ✓ Reinforce emotional outcomes.

16.14 Product Communication Don'ts

✗ Overuse technical jargon. ✗ Focus only on ingredients. ✗ Lead with specifications. ✗ Overpromise. ✗ Compare aggressively. ✗ Use confusing terminology.

16.15 Product Communication QA

Checklist

Before publishing, ask:

- Is the benefit immediately clear?
- Does the communication solve a real consumer need?

- Is the language simple?
- Are claims accurate?
- Does the product fit naturally into everyday life?
- Is the emotional outcome evident?
- Would someone unfamiliar with ACO understand the value in under five seconds?

17

Consumer Journey & Experience

17.1 Experience Philosophy

Every interaction should leave people feeling that ACO understands everyday life. The brand experience should be:

- Helpful
- Reassuring
- Consistent
- Human
- Practical Consumers should experience the same personality whether they:
- Watch a Reel
- Read a Facebook post
- Visit a retailer
- Speak to customer service
- Attend a community activation
- Buy the product

17.2 Consumer Journey

The ACO journey consists of six stages.

- 1. Awareness The consumer discovers ACO. Goal: Capture attention through relatable stories.
- 2. Interest The consumer wants to learn more. Goal:

Demonstrate relevance. Educate without overwhelming.

- 3. Consideration The consumer compares options. Goal: Show value. Build trust. Provide proof through demonstrations and testimonials.
- 4. Purchase The consumer chooses ACO. Goal: Make selection easy. Packaging should communicate benefits clearly. Retail displays should be simple and organised.
- 5. Usage The consumer uses ACO. Goal: Deliver on the brand promise. Instructions should be clear. Results should meet expectations.
- 6. Loyalty & Advocacy The consumer buys again and recommends ACO. Goal: Reward trust. Share practical content. Celebrate customer stories. Maintain an ongoing relationship.

17.3 Consumer Touchpoints

Every touchpoint should reinforce the same brand promise. Key touchpoints include:

- Social media
- Retail shelves

- Product packaging
- Point-of-sale displays
- Community activations
- Customer service
- Sampling campaigns
- Website
- WhatsApp communication
- Influencer content Consistency builds trust.

17.4 Retail Experience

Retail should feel: Easy

Organised Inviting Helpful Displays should:

- Group products logically.
- Highlight benefits before features.
- Make prices easy to identify.
- Keep communication concise.

17.5 Digital Experience

Digital platforms should:

- Load quickly.
- Be mobile-first.
- Use clear navigation.
- Feature practical advice.
- Maintain visual consistency.
- Encourage interaction. Content should answer questions before consumers need to ask them.

17.6 Customer Service Standards

Every response should be: Warm Respectful Clear Solution-oriented Honest

Even when resolving complaints, the tone should remain calm and reassuring.

17.7 Community Engagement

ACO should actively participate in communities through:

- School hygiene initiatives
- Community clean-up events
- Women's empowerment programmes
- Household education campaigns
- Local partnerships

The goal is to be seen as a trusted neighbour—not just a product manufacturer.

17.8 Loyalty Principles

Encourage repeat engagement by:

- Sharing practical cleaning tips.
- Featuring customer stories.
- Running educational campaigns.
- Recognising community contributions.
- Rewarding participation where appropriate.

Loyalty is built through consistent value, not only promotions.

17.9 Handling Consumer Concerns

When addressing complaints:

- 1. Listen first.
- 2. Acknowledge the concern.
- 3. Respond with empathy.
- 4. Offer a practical solution.
- 5. Follow up where possible.
- 6. Learn from recurring feedback. The objective is to strengthen trust through responsiveness.

17.10 Brand Experience Standards

Every interaction should make consumers feel:

- Respected
- Informed
- Supported
- Confident
- Appreciated If a touchpoint creates confusion, it should be redesigned. If it creates confidence, it supports the brand promise.

17.11 Experience Measurement

Monitor: Awareness

- Reach
- Brand recall
- Share of voice

Engagement

- Saves
- Shares
- Comments
- Click-through rates

Satisfaction

- Customer feedback
- Response times
- Resolution rates

Loyalty

- Repeat purchase
- Advocacy
- Community participation These measures should be reviewed regularly to identify opportunities for improvement.

17.12 Consumer Experience QA Checklist

Before evaluating any consumer touchpoint, confirm: ✓ Is the experience simple and intuitive? ✓ Does it reflect the ACO personality? ✓ Is the communication clear? ✓ Does it solve a genuine consumer need? ✓ Is the experience consistent with other channels? ✓ Does it leave the consumer feeling confident? ✓ Would this interaction encourage someone to choose ACO again?

18

Brand Governance & Quality Control

18.1 Governance Philosophy

A brand is one of ACO's most valuable business assets. Every communication, design, campaign, product launch, and customer interaction should strengthen—not dilute—the brand. Governance exists to enable consistency, not to limit creativity.

18.2 Brand Ownership

Clear ownership ensures accountability. Role Responsibility Brand Manager Owns brand strategy and positioning Marketing Team Plans campaigns and content Designers Apply visual identity correctly Copywriters Maintain verbal identity and tone Photographers & Follow visual and motion standards Videographers Sales Team Communicate approved product benefits Agencies Execute within the Brand Bible Leadership Protect long-term brand consistency

18.3 Creative Approval Process

Every creative asset should pass through five stages:

- 1. Strategic Review
- Does it solve the right business problem?
- 2. Brand Review
- Does it follow the Brand Bible?
- 3. Creative Review
- Is it visually compelling and easy to understand?
- 4. Legal & Claims Review
- Are all claims accurate and compliant?
- 5. Final Approval
- Ready for production and distribution.

No asset should bypass this process.

18.4 Asset Management

Maintain a single, central repository for:

- Logos
- Colour palettes
- Fonts
- Photography

- Video assets
- Templates
- Icons
- Product packshots
- Brand documents

Only approved assets should be used.

18.5 Brand Audits

Conduct quarterly reviews to evaluate:

- Visual consistency
- Tone of voice
- Campaign effectiveness
- Product communication
- Retail execution
- Digital presence
- Consumer feedback

The objective is continuous improvement—not fault-finding.

18.6 Quality Assurance Standards

Every asset should be checked for:

- Strategic alignment
- Visual consistency
- Correct logo usage
- Approved colour palette
- Typography
- Photography standards
- Accessibility
- Grammar and spelling
- Product accuracy
- Platform optimisation

18.7 Brand Consistency Score

Evaluate major campaigns against a 100-point scorecard.

Suggested weighting:

- Strategy Alignment – 20
- Visual Identity – 20
- Messaging – 20
- Product Communication – 15
- Storytelling – 15
- Technical Execution – 10

A score of 90+ indicates excellent brand alignment.

18.8 Agency Onboarding

Every new agency or freelance partner should receive:

- Full Brand Bible
- Approved asset library
- Creative templates
- Campaign examples
- Product information
- Contact details for brand approvals A short onboarding session is recommended before any work begins.

18.9 Change Management

Brands evolve over time. Any updates to:

- Logo
- Colours
- Typography
- Tone of voice
- Messaging
- Photography style
- Product positioning should be documented, dated, approved, and communicated to all stakeholders.

18.10 Governance QA Checklist

Before approving any brand asset, confirm: ✓ Is it strategically aligned? ✓ Does it follow the visual identity? ✓ Does it use the approved tone of voice? ✓ Are all product claims accurate?

✓ Is it suitable for the intended audience? ✓ Is it accessible and platform-appropriate? ✓ Would it be recognised immediately as ACO?

19

Ai & Future Content Guidelines

19.1 AI Philosophy

AI is a creative accelerator—not a replacement for human judgement.

It should help teams:

- Explore ideas
- Increase efficiency
- Improve consistency
- Scale production

Final creative responsibility always remains with the ACO team.

19.2 AI Principles

AI-generated work should always be:

- Brand-aligned
- Accurate
- Human-centred
- Authentic
- Transparent internally

AI should never invent product claims, testimonials, or unsupported benefits.

19.3 AI Copywriting Standards

Every AI-generated script or caption should:

- Use the ACO tone of voice.
- Focus on one clear message.
- Speak in simple language.
- Prioritise consumer benefits.
- End with an appropriate call to action.

Human review is mandatory before publication.

19.4 AI Image Generation Standards

Generated visuals should reflect:

- Authentic Angolan homes

- Diverse Angolan communities
- Natural lighting
- Realistic product integration
- Official brand colours
- Everyday situations

Avoid:

- Unrealistic perfection
- Generic stock-photo aesthetics
- Impossible cleaning results
- Artificial-looking people

19.5 AI Video Standards

AI-assisted videos should:

- Follow the Video Playbook.
- Respect the Storytelling System.
- Maintain realistic motion.
- Include accurate product usage.
- Preserve the brand's calm and practical personality.

19.6 AI Prompt Framework

Every prompt should specify:

- Objective
- Audience
- Consumer insight
- Setting
- Brand personality
- Visual style
- Product
- Desired outcome
- Platform
- Output format

Structured prompts produce more consistent brand work.

19.7 Automation Opportunities

Suitable uses include:

- Caption drafting
- Story variations
- Translation
- Content planning
- Creative ideation
- Metadata generation
- Asset tagging
- Internal documentation

Final approval should always involve a human reviewer.

19.8 Emerging Platforms

The Brand Bible should be reviewed annually to ensure compatibility with:

- New social platforms
- AI search experiences
- Voice interfaces
- Connected retail
- Interactive commerce
- Future digital formats

The core brand principles should remain stable even as channels evolve.

19.9 AI Governance Checklist

Before publishing AI-assisted content, confirm: ✓ Follows the Brand Bible. ✓ Uses approved product information. ✓ Contains no unsupported claims. ✓ Represents authentic Angolan life. ✓ Maintains the ACO tone of voice. ✓ Has been reviewed by a human.

20

Brand Implementation Toolkit & Final Manifesto

20.1 Purpose

The Brand Bible becomes valuable only when it is applied consistently.

This toolkit helps internal teams, agencies, and partners activate the brand with confidence.

20.2 Creative Brief Template

Every project should include:

- Business objective
- Campaign objective
- Target audience
- Consumer insight
- Key message
- Supporting messages
- Featured product
- Deliverables
- Timeline
- Success metrics

20.3 Campaign Planning Checklist

Before launching a campaign:

- Define the audience.
- Identify the consumer insight.
- Confirm the campaign objective.
- Select the content mix.
- Assign owners.
- Establish approval milestones.
- Plan performance measurement.

20.4 Content Production Checklist

Before production:

- Approved script
- Approved storyboard

- Correct products
- Correct branding
- Talent briefed
- Locations approved
- Wardrobe approved
- Equipment prepared
- Legal approvals completed

20.5 Design Checklist

Every design should confirm:

- Approved logo
- Official colours
- Correct typography
- Consistent spacing
- High-resolution imagery
- Clear hierarchy
- Strong CTA
- Mobile readability

20.6 Social Publishing Checklist

Before publishing:

- Correct caption
- Hashtags (where relevant)
- Platform formatting
- Alt text (where supported)
- Thumbnail selection
- Links tested
- Product names verified
- Approval recorded

20.7 Performance Review Framework

After each campaign, evaluate:

- Objectives achieved?
- Highest-performing assets?

- Audience feedback?
- Sales impact?
- Lessons learned?
- Improvements for the next campaign?

Document findings to strengthen future work.

20.8 Training & Onboarding

Every new employee, agency, or creative partner should complete a brand induction covering:

- Brand purpose
- Brand promise
- Visual identity
- Tone of voice
- Product communication
- Creative standards
- Approval process

This ensures consistency from day one.

20.9 Annual Brand Review

Review the Brand Bible every 12 months.

Assess:

- Market changes
- Consumer behaviour
- Product portfolio
- Competitors
- Platform trends
- Creative performance Update guidance only where necessary while protecting the core brand identity.

20.10 The ACO Brand Manifesto

We believe a clean home is more than tidy surfaces. It is where families feel safe, welcomed, and ready for everyday life. We believe great cleaning should be simple, practical, and within everyone's reach. We create products that work hard, so people can spend less time cleaning and more time living. We celebrate the pride that comes from caring for a home, a family, and a community. We speak with honesty, design with purpose, and create with empathy. Every bottle, every story, every photograph, every conversation, and every campaign should make everyday life a little easier. That is the promise of ACO.