A SHALINA HEALTHCARE BRAND

SHAL'ARTEM PRESENTS · NIGERIA · A NATIONAL DANCE COMPETITION

BOUNCE BACK

Three counts down. Rise on four.

Not the three days — what you do after them. Nigeria's comeback dance, open to everyone with a body and a moment worth rising for. This is the working brief: the move, the money, the timeline, and the guardrails.

COUNT FOUR — THE RISE.

| BUDGET | BUILD | RUN | GRAND PRIZE |
|---|---|---|---|
| $10,000 | 8 days | 4 weeks | $1,200 |
| $7k ops + $3k prizes | live on day 9 | Nigeria · NMA-endorsed | "Moment Made" |

THE IDEA IN ONE LINE

Three counts down, rise on four. A signature move anyone can d body telling the brand's truth: the fever takes three days; the mom to talk about malaria. We ask Nigeria to show us the comeback.

WHY DANCE CARRIES THIS

The move is the message.

The theme is physical. "Bounce back" is literally a movement — no brand metaphor to explain. Down, down, down, UP.

It's the house's proven format. Street style + user content + micro-influencers is the machine Shalina already runs in Nigeria. We're loading a proven gun with a sharper bullet.

Dance travels where copy can't. A move needs no literacy, no language split, no caption. Lagos to Kano, one grammar.

It keeps us clean. Nobody dances a medical claim. The clinical truth stays in the brand's own endorsed line; the public's contribution is joy, recovery-energy, life resumed — the safest compliance posture available, safer even than testimony.

Sound + move = algorithm. An ownable audio plus a copyable signature move is the one UGC format that reliably compounds on TikTok and Reels in Nigeria — and we own the sound outright.

THE TEASER · FIRST DROP FRIDAY

Thirty seconds to start a street.

The teaser — dance only, no singers: a market cypher at golden hour, three counts down, rise on four, cut to the anthem. First drop: Friday.

KEY ART

THE FLOOR

THE RISE

THE SIGNATURE MOVE · "3 DOWN, RISE ON 4"

Everyone starts identical. Everyone finishes different.

Counts 1 – 2 – 3: low, heavy, coiled — shoulders drop a beat each count. The weight. The three days.

Count 4 — the RISE: explode up into YOUR move. Shaku, gbese, zanku, a spin, a leap. The first three counts belong to the brand; the fourth count belongs to Nigeria.

Filmable in 15 seconds: three-down-rise-on-four twice, then freestyle out.

SOUND ON

Judges score the fourth count — originality — which is what turns a challenge into a competition.

The first three counts belong to the brand. The fourth belongs to Nigeria.

The move, live — a Lagos crew: three counts down, rise on four, each dancer's own fourth count.

We make the anthem in-house. One 30–45s Afrobeats track with the count baked into the hook — "one, two, three… RISE." Produced by us, so we own it clean — full commercial + TikTok/Meta sound rights, no licensing exposure, no third-party takedown risk. The sound is the campaign's most valuable asset: every use is an impression with the mechanic embedded.

HOW TO ENTER

WHO'S IN IT

The streets, the crews, the fuse.

TIER 1 · THE FLOOR

THE STREETS

UGC floor — everyone. Post your Bounce Back, your fourth count, the sound. Solo, family, workplace, market, church-steps after service. Weekly winners voted in by the public. WhatsApp channel for those who won't post publicly — load-bearing in this market.

TIER 2 · THE SHOW

THE CREWS

Registered dance crews (2–8) battle through the run — the craft tier. Crews bring choreography, costume, location craft, and feed the brand's own video content and future films.

TIER 3 · THE FUSE

THE IGNITERS

15 Nigerian micro-influencers from our own WhatsApp roster seed the move inside the launch 48-hour window and keep the feed busy through the run. Micro over mega, deliberately: comment-section trust and geographic spread. They post their own entries but cannot win — they're pace-setters who set the standard, with paid-partnership disclosure. The prizes stay with the public floor.

> The story floor. Every entry caption invites one line — "My moment I'll never miss: ___." The dance carries the reach; the line carries the brand story home and mines the best stories for next season's films.

THE PRIZES

Three a week, and one that is the tagline.

Every week, three winners —

| $200 | $150 | $100 |
| --- | --- | --- |
| 1ST / WEEK | 2ND / WEEK | 3RD / WEEK |

Then the grand prize: one winner gets their actual moment funded and filmed — the stall launch, the wedding video, the graduation shoot. We don't hand over a gadget. We make sure you don't miss your moment. At $1,200 in Nigeria this genuinely funds a real moment, and filming it being fulfilled gives the campaign its crescendo at production cost.

How winners are chosen: jury pre-screens each week's entries for compliance and craft, the shortlist goes to a public vote, winners announced the following week. Influencers can't win; past winners step back so the prizes keep spreading.

The hook is the tagline. Pick the cut.

"One, two, three… rise on four" — built to be sung, chanted, and worn. Four mixes of the same anthem below; the 30-second radio and social edit comes off the selected cut.

Mix 1

SELECTED · 48S

The reference cut for the 30-second edit.

Mix 2

44S

Alternate mix.

Mix 3

Mix 4
